STATEMENTS ARE INACCURATE

GOVERNOR HENDERSON ON PRINGLE CHARGES

No Justification Exists for Statements—Political Motives Behind Them.

Alex. Henderson, governor of the Yukon, was in Victoria yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Henderson. His visit was a short one, affording him little time to spend with his many friends in Victoria. Governor Henderson, who term of office in the north is proving such a successful one, has just returned from the East. He will leave again in a day or two for the North, after spending a few days in Vancouver.

The head of the government in the Yukon is adding to his already successful public career in a marked way. All reports brought from the North have been in praise of the conscientious had complaints to make it is safe to say that had he taken them to Mr. Henderson he would have received the fullest of consideration.

The governor paid a tribute to Rev. D. Grant, who for many years was pastor of the St. Andrew's church, Dawson, and who took such an active part in the affairs of the Good Samaritan hospital. The influence of a man like Mr. Grant was very great and meant much for the moral uplifting of the community. Men like Dr. Grant, who knew the situation, were not found making the extravagant statements that Mr. Pringle did.

Referring to general conditions in the north, Mr. Henderson anticipates greater activity from now on as the dredging companies are installing large plants that should give good results. The Guggenheims will have seven dredges operating this summer and it is safe to say that about 1,000 men will be employed in them. There are other companies prepared to carry out extensive work also. The one with which ex-Commissioner Ogilvie is identified, is to operate on Stewart river. The dredge gives excellent prospects. There is a large tract to be treated about 30 miles above Dawson.

In some of the new fields the results have been very good so far and they promise to give good returns to the miners.

An interesting statement was made by Mr. Henderson with respect to the

SALE OF LOTS IN PRINCE RUPERT

TORIES AT TOWNSITE WANT PUBLIC AUCTION

C. D. Rand Reported to Be Strongly in Favor of Private Disposal.

(Special Correspondence.)
Prince Rupert, June 11.—From the very latest advices received at Prince Rupert it is altogether likely that the government portion of the Prince Rupert townsite will be put on the market at Prince Rupert either by private sale or auction. C. D. Rand, the real estate man of Vancouver, who will handle the property, is reported to be strongly in favor of selling the lots by private sale and at reasonable figures, as he considers that should the lots be auctioned off exorbitant prices would be paid, and the lots would likely fall into the hands of speculators instead of parties who would endeavor to make a city.

Already the Conservative Association of Prince Rupert has gone on record in this matter, for at a meeting held here of that newly organized body a couple of days ago the following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that we, as supporters of the Conservative party, wish to be placed on record as unanimously favoring the selling of the province's share of the lots in Prince Rupert townsite at public auction at Prince Rupert."

SKIMMING ATLANTIC AT TWENTY-FIVE KNOT CLIP

All Ocean Records Will Go With Arrival of Lusitania at New York.

New York, June 11.—That the Cunard Steamship Company's steamer LUSITANIA is breaking all Atlantic records on her trip from Queenstown to New York is made known in a wireless dispatch from the captain which reached the agents here, via Halifax, N. S., last night. The message says that at 11:35 a. m. the Lusitania was 1,948 knots from Daunt's Rock, having made an hourly average of 25.12 knots. The Lusitania sailed on Sunday morning and is due here at the bar about midnight.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

Weekly Statement Shows Slight Decrease in Reserve.

London, June 11.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, decrease £82,000; circulation, decrease £142,000; bullion, decrease £204,568; other securities, increase £128,000; other deposits, increase £94,000; public deposits, decrease £37,000; note reserve, decrease £102,000; government securities, unchanged.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to its liability this week is 56.55 per cent. Last week it was 56.82 per cent.

DIES AFTER AWFUL ORDEAL

Handiworker Shot Through Arm by Companion, Succumbs Through Loss of Blood.

(Special to the Times.)
Vancouver, June 11.—R. Drummitt and B. F. Blake, two handiworkers at Bute Inlet, went hunting last Sunday morning. They separated and later Blake shot something moving in the bushes and fired. Drummitt was shot through the arm. It took two days and sixty miles of rowing in a small boat to get Drummitt to the Rock Bay hospital. He died soon after his arrival there from the shock and loss of blood.

YIMR SALOONKEEPER SHOOT DOWN MAN

Perpetrator of Crime is Lodged in Jail—Victim in Hospital.

Superintendent of Provincial Police Hussey this morning received a telegram from Provincial Constable W. J. Devitt stationed at Nelson informing him that a saloon keeper at Yimr named Coleman had shot a man named Sands there last night, for which offence he was now under arrest and lodged in the jail at Nelson.

MOTHER AND CHILD DROWN.

(Special to the Times.)
Buckingham, June 11.—Mrs. William Parcher and her little daughter were drowned at Chaucey lake near here yesterday afternoon. The child had fallen into the water and the mother plunged in to its assistance. Mrs. Parcher was 25 years old and well known in the district.

TATSU MARU INCIDENT.

Viceroy of Canton Agrees to Pay Japanese Government $118,000.
Hongkong, June 11.—It is reported here that the negotiations with regard to the indemnity demand of the Japanese government over the Tatsu Maru, which was seized on February 7th by Chinese customs officials of Macao, have been concluded. The viceroy of Canton agreeing to the payment of $118,000.

VISIT TO CZAR GREAT SUCCESS

KING EDWARD SAILS FROM RUSSIAN WATERS

His Majesty Confers With Foreign Minister Iswolsky on International Questions.

Reval, June 11.—The meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas ended last night in accordance with the prearranged programme. In every way it has been a complete success. The king and the emperor lunched yesterday on the Russian imperial yacht Standard, and dined together on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. No further speeches were made.

The king, who was appointed a Russian admiral, had a conference with the foreign minister, M. Iswolsky, and the latter also had another long conference with Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent under secretary of the British foreign office, on the Macedonian, Persian and other important questions. Last night dancing was kept up on the decks of the Victoria and Albert until nearly midnight, all the members of the royal parties remaining on deck. The emperor, who will remain for another day, pressed King Edward to delay his departure, but at three o'clock in the morning the Victoria and Albert, with the escorting fleet, sailed homeward. No salutes were fired.

Emperor Visits Minotaur.

King Edward and Emperor Nicholas spent yesterday morning in receiving delegates from the local nobility, the municipality and the peasants of the districts on board their respective yachts. Yesterday afternoon the emperor paid an informal visit to the British cruiser Minotaur and the royal yacht Alexandra.

Emperor Nicholas yesterday sent over 3,000 boxes of confectionery and large numbers of photographs of himself for the school children who welcomed him on his arrival here. Strict secrecy is being observed regarding the political significance of the meeting of the two rulers.

Means Rapprochement.

St. Petersburg, June 11.—It was learned here to-day from a competent source that the recent meeting between King Edward VII. and Emperor Nicholas at Reval, was a rapprochement between Great Britain, Russia and France, and has been the subject of grave representations on the part of Germany, who has met the threat of a new triple alliance with a display of the "mailed fist."

MAIL DISAPPEARS IN STRANGE FASHION

Valued at $100,000, and Lost in Transit Across Continent.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 11.—Reluctant admissions were made by postal officers of three cities yesterday that confirmed to some extent the belief that the disappearance of the registered mail pouch in transit from Los Angeles to New York, somewhere within the jurisdiction of Kansas City post office last Saturday night, will prove to be one of the largest losses in the history of the post office department.

The amount can only be conjectured, but it may reach a total of $100,000. That a pouch of value has disappeared was admitted by the department at Washington by Postmaster M. Flint, of Los Angeles, and by Inspector W. J. Vickery, attached to the Kansas City post office.

BLOODHOUNDS FAIL TO TRACK FIEND

HAZELMERE MURDERER STILL AT LARGE

Armed Posse is Baffled in Pursuit by Forest Fastnesses

(Special to the Times.)
Hazelmere, June 11.—If the slayer of Mrs. Mary Morrison is ever caught it would appear that it will only be by a fortunate accident. The bloodhounds of James Adams, of Hazelmere, followed by armed posse, had late last night traced the murderer under a Great Northern trestle to a sparsely settled and seemingly safe section of a giant forest on the Canadian side of the international boundary, east of Douglas.

This is not only the conclusion of Mr. Adams and his fellow employees, of Fox & Hunter's mill, assisted by those from E. H. Heap's mill and the Washington Lumber Company, but also of Gus F. Newman, who was the last to see the murderer. This was just to the south west of the trestle, which is little more than one mile south of the scene of the crime, and midway between it and Douglas, where the Great Northern enters the state of Washington.

Of the two men now detained, one at Hazelmere and the other at Kensington, neither can be the murderer, and both will be released to-day. The latter is four miles in the wrong direction, while Haney is in the east, and although in the right direction is beyond the distance the murderer could have walked, and he has so far no other method of escape. By 3 o'clock this afternoon he will have 48 hours of a lead.

ANOTHER STREET CAR OUTRAGE IN CLEVELAND

Dynamite Explosion Injures
Seven People—Passengers
Panic Stricken.

Cleveland, O., June 11.—The police of Euclid Heights, the suburb in which a municipal traction company car was blown up by dynamite at an early hour this morning, are bending every effort to run down the miscreants who placed the explosives on the tracks. Seven passengers were injured, none fatally, as a result of the explosion. The car was running slowly when the front wheels struck the explosive. The explosion then followed and was heard for over a mile. Windows were shattered and seats twisted. The floor of the car was lifted upwards, throwing the passengers in a panic stricken heap on the floor. The slow speed of the car saved it from going over the steep embankment along the road. The explosion lifted it clear to within a foot of the curb.

The wheels and the motor fell between the rails, two sticks of dynamite were found on the rails where they had been placed with the intention of blowing up the cars bound in the opposite direction.

TAFT'S POPULARITY.

Chicago, June 11.—The Republican National committee by its work yesterday decided contests in two states at large and in fourteen districts, the net result being that 33 full votes and half votes were added to the number already credited to Wm. H. Taft, and that two half votes were given to Senator B. Foraker.

The committee has yet to consider contest at large in four states and a total of 38 district contests and two from the territories, involving a total of 94 votes.

Before the meeting of the committee the numbers of delegates instructed for Taft was 337.

ANTI-GAMBLING BILLS ARE AGAIN TO FORE

Albany, N. Y., June 10.—The assembly this afternoon passed both of the so-called anti-race-track gambling bills with less than one hundred votes in their favor, whereas they had 126 at the regular session. They are expected to come up in the senate to-morrow and before the day closes, to have met a decisive vote.

The struggle over the bills to abolish the legal protection of public gambling at race tracks broke out first in the assembly to-day, upon a motion of Assemblyman Hart, their introducer, to suspend the rules in order to pass them out of their order. The opposition, led by Oliver (Democrat), endeavored to obstruct and the latter began a long speech, being a motion for the "previous question," by the majority. Leadership was suppressed him, at least for the time, and the indications then were that the assembly would pass the bills to-day.

Vote Results in Tie.
Albany, N. Y., June 11.—Every one of the fifty-one members of the senate except Foelker was in his seat when at 10:25 a. m. the first of the bills was taken up. The vote in the senate at the regular session of the legislature was a tie, 25 to 25, so that Senator Foelker's vote is indispensable in the passage of the bills at this extra session.

Later—Senator Foelker, of Brooklyn, reached the capital a few minutes before the stroke of noon, and at 12:03 p. m. in the senate chamber, voted "no" on a motion to amend and thus virtually kill the first of the Agnew Hart anti-gambling bills. The first bill was then put up on its final passage, Foelker voting aye.

The second was passed by the same vote and the most sensational legislative battle of many years was at an end. The bills return as a matter of routine to the assembly where they originated, but without further vote they will go to the governor for approval.

Governor Hughes, when informed of the passage of the bills, made no attempt to conceal his elation. He said: "I am deeply gratified at this result. It is a victory for law and order, the importance of which cannot be overestimated."

Referring to the action of Senator Foelker in leaving a bed of serious illness to cast his vote for the bill the governor said: "The act of Senator Foelker, in coming to the senate in his weak condition, was most heroic and worthy of the same praise that he has given to distinguished service on the battlefield."

The governor did not say when he would sign the bills but left no room to doubt that he would lose no time after they reached him from the assembly. Both bills take effect immediately, which according to the constitution, means that both bills take effect to-day, after their approval by the governor.

KNIFE-CARRYING ITALIANS.

League Will Be Formed to Do Away With Unwholesome Practice.

Toronto, June 11.—As a result of a letter written by Chief Justice Mulock to the court interpreter at Hamilton, L. P. Scarrone, a meeting of Italians of Hamilton and vicinity will be held on Saturday evening to inaugurate, if possible, an Italian league, which will try to put down the carrying of concealed weapons. The letter points out the need for some movement of this kind.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Rapid Growth of Society is Made Evident at Boston Gathering.

Boston, Mass., June 11.—The rapid growth of the United Society of Christian Endeavor was told of by the founder of the Society of Christian Endeavor, Rev. Francis Clark, in his annual report to the board of trustees at the annual meeting yesterday. The figures show a net gain of over 1,266 societies and about 50,000 members, making a net enrolment of 70,704 societies.

All the old officers were re-elected. Among the new trustees are the following: Rev. A. A. Shaw, Winnipeg, Man., and Rev. E. H. Tippet, of Montreal.

BRITISH VESSEL FOUNDERS.

One Life Lost When Steamer Cariboo Goes to Her Doom.

Savannah, Ga., June 11.—The British tug steamer Cariboo from Mantanzas for New York, foundered at sea on June 8th. One sailor was drowned. The remainder of the crew was rescued and landed to-day at Savannah.

ELECTION TELEGRAPHING.

Montreal, June 11.—Joseph Sanger, convicted of "telegraphing" in Monday's elections, was sentenced this morning to three months in jail and a fine of $50 or three months more.

HITCHCOCK IS FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

Popular Comedian, However, Must Stand Trial on Other Indictments.

New York, June 11.—The jury in the case of Raymond Hitchcock, accused by a number of young girls, returned a verdict of "not guilty" early this morning.

When Hitchcock reached the Tombs prison, after his acquittal, he was the centre of another remarkable demonstration. The hundred of prisoners who were aware that the jury in his case was out, had remained awake all night to hear the verdict. When the actor announced that he had been acquitted, a small cheer started in the cells nearest to the entrance, which grew in volume when its import became known to those locked in the cells, until the building rang with the din. As Hitchcock went to his cell the shouts continued, and every prisoner as he passed by reached through the bars to shake his hand.

Hitchcock will appear in court again to-day in connection with other indictments on similar charges. At present he is still at the Tombs prison, having been detained by Justice Goff after the jury's verdict had been returned. A motion to admit the actor to bail on the remaining indictments, which was made by his counsel at that time, was denied by Justice Goff. The justice said he would consider the question of bail when court convened to-day.

Allowed Out on Bail.

New York, June 11.—(Later.)—Hitchcock was later released from the Tombs on $7,500 bail. The release was approved by Justice Goff.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

ESTABLISHMENT IS URGED BY DR. MONTIZAMBERT

Many Interesting Features at Convention of Canadian Medical Association.

Ottawa, June 11.—The feature of the evening session of the annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association on Tuesday was an address on Hygiene by Dr. Montizambert, director general of public health for the Dominion, and president of the association. The doctor traced the development of the science of sanitation from the earliest times down to the present date. In particular he dealt with duties of municipalities and of the state in regard to public health, and closed by urging the establishment of a department of public health in Canada.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier extended a hearty welcome to the medical men. In reference to the progress of medical science, the premier made a humorous allusion to his own experience. In speaking of the breakdown which he suffered five years ago, he said at that time he went to a local doctor for advice. What he told him could be put in a few words: "No drugs, lots of rest and simple food."

In London he consulted a specialist and was told the same thing. Shortly after that he consulted an eminent Paris specialist, and he told him exactly the same thing, so when he returned to Ottawa he placed himself in the hands of the local doctor.

In regard to the establishment of a tuberculosis sanatorium, the premier candidly said he could not commit himself, but if the doctors were able to convince him and his ministers they would be delighted to act upon the suggestions of the medical men.

The association yesterday appointed a committee to consider the question of a Canadian ambulance association. The idea is that the association should be useful, not only in war, but in times of national calamities, railway accidents, landslides, etc. A committee was also appointed to report on the Dominion government and urge more stringent regulations regarding pure milk. It is probable that the next annual meeting of the association will take place in Winnipeg. At a meeting of the executive of the organization, it was recommended that the next annual meeting be held in the capital of Manitoba. The recommendation will be submitted to the general meeting to-day. It will probably be adopted. Dr. Geo. Elliot, of this city, will probably be the next president.

At yesterday evening's session of the association important papers were read by Dr. Russell, of London, England, a neurologist of world-wide fame, and Dr. John C. Munro, of Boston, Mass., a famous surgeon.

BUBONIC AT TRINIDAD.

Special Efforts to Combat Spread of Disease in Port of Spain.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, June 11.—There only have been four cases of bubonic plague here since the outbreak of the disease. The last death occurred on June 5th, since when there have been no new cases. Four suspects are at present being cared for in an observation camp. The authorities are taking every precaution to stamp out the malady. There is a special organization to combat the spread of the disease, and the town has been divided into districts for sanitary work, with a special doctor in charge of each. The sanitary conditions of the Port of Spain are good.

DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.

Archbishop is Assassinated on Steps of Synodal Building at Tiflis.

Tiflis, June 11.—Archbishop Nikon, of Georgia, was assassinated at Tiflis yesterday on the steps of the synodal building. His assassins were revolutionists. A monk who was in attendance upon the archbishop was severely wounded.

The assassins made sure of their work. They emptied their revolvers into the body of the archbishop and then fled. They have not been captured.

FORGER AS WELL.

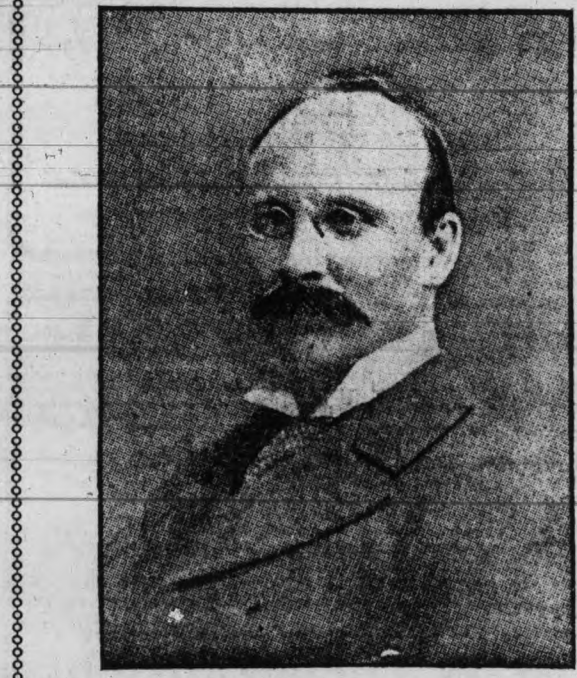

Kington, June 11.—Beside being a bigamist, J. E. Anderson, who has been sent to the penitentiary for seven years, is a forger. He secured the appointment of inspector of schools at Brockville on forged certificates of university standing. G. Y. Chown, registrar of Queen's, has received papers whereon, under Chown's certificate, it is stated that Anderson graduated at Queen's in 1894 with honors in mathematics and physics, and was a specialist on these subjects. The signature of Chown is well executed. Anderson made fifty copies of the certificate.

NO REFRIEVE.

Springfield, Ill., June 11.—The state supreme court to-day refused to stay the execution of Herman Dill, who is sentenced to suffer the death penalty in Chicago to-morrow for the murder of Mary Veral.

RETAILERS IN CONVENTION.

Hamilton, Ont., June 11.—The fourth annual convention of members of the Canadian Retail Association opened here yesterday afternoon.

GOVERNOR HENDERSON, OF THE YUKON.

manner in which he administers the affairs under his charge.

While in the city yesterday a reporter of the Times took occasion to ask the governor for an expression of opinion upon the attacks which Rev. Mr. Pringle was making upon the conduct of affairs in Dawson. Special attention was directed to the latest reported utterances of Mr. Pringle in which before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Pringle is reported to have alleged all kinds of political and moral degradation as existing in the Yukon.

In reply to the questions directed to him, Mr. Henderson said he would not presume to speak of conditions in Dawson for any period except that with which he had been connected with the district. He was not in a position to say what the conditions were in the past. He did know what they were at present, however. "If Mr. Pringle pretends to make his words apply to the present time I can say that his statements are inaccurate and misleading," said the governor, "and I take issue at once with him."

Continuing he said that with respect to the moral conditions in the city of Dawson he could challenge comparison with any town in western Canada. It would compare favorably in this respect, he contended, with any average town in the West.

Relative to Mr. Pringle's attacks he said he could not well understand why that gentleman, if he was as zealous as he represented himself to be in the cause of moral reform, had not co-operated with him (Mr. Henderson), in connection with the carrying out of the different measures of reform introduced into the council and put through. These measures included the abolition of the dance halls in the city. Yet in the carrying through of these measures, Mr. Pringle had never given him any assistance. No sympathy was ever expressed by Rev. Mr. Pringle nor did he manifest towards the governor that he was prepared to co-operate towards the end of improving conditions in the North.

Mr. Henderson says he cannot help thinking that the action of this clergyman is tinged from political motives. He was forced to this conclusion by the statements of Mr. Pringle himself. He had stated to the governor that the Liberal party had not treated him fairly and he intended to do what he could against it. There seem to be motives that are actuating the clergyman in his statements which are far from representing the true conditions in Dawson.

Those who know Mr. Henderson in British Columbia will be ready to acknowledge that his influence will always be exerted in the direction of good government and along the lines of a better moral tone. If Mr. Pringle growing of vegetables. He says that there is no justification for importing potatoes or vegetables into the Yukon.

The country can grow all that are needed. He saw rich tracts near Pelly river where excellent potatoes were grown. Near Dawson good potatoes were likewise grown. There is no reason why all that is required in this line should not be raised right in the country.

Life in the North the governor finds very pleasurable. The people are energetic and intelligent and life in that part of the Dominion is exceedingly pleasant.

ECONOMY MUST GO WITH GOOD CROP

Commerce Bank President Gives Canadians Some Wholesome Advice.

Toronto, June 10.—Commenting on the excellent crop outlook in Western Canada, President Walker, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said a bumper crop would not be sufficient to restore prosperity.

"What Canada needs," said Mr. Walker, "is a good crop and a year of economy. That would bring us back to the normal. A good crop alone would not be sufficient, and perhaps it is because we have not been badly enough punished that we do not fully realize that."

"The West may think that the depression was caused by the bad crop, but as a matter of fact the bad crop was only an incident. The depression would have come without it. In the United States they had good crops and got more for their cereals and cotton than ever before, but they had worse trouble financially than Canada had. The real cause of the depression was the tendency and practice of people of living ahead of themselves. If there is a splendid crop and Canadians have not learned their lesson, they will start cutting the same wide swath of over-expenditure, then there will be the same inevitable trouble following. The country needs a year of economy. The natural result of a good crop and a year of economy, is that municipalities will find themselves able to sell their bonds. Some of them, perhaps, will take advantage of this to plunge into improvements on the old large scale. This will not be justified, for the country needs caution as well as a good crop."

Miss Sylvester of This City,
One of the Principals in Interesting Ceremony.

The nuptials of Rachael Valentine daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Sylvester, and Colin Lorne Campbell, agent at Cobalt, of the Hamilton Powder Co., took place yesterday afternoon, after which a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Fairleigh.

The house was very tastefully decorated with Shasta daisies and roses, the predominating color being yellow, carried out throughout the house in all the decorations. The bride was very tastefully attired in a crepe de chine dress, trimmed with Irish point lace.

The bridesmaids were the Misses L. M. and Ruby Sylvester, both of whom looked charming. The former was attired in blue eolian, and the latter in white Sicilian cloth. The groom was supported by Mr. Jesse P. Sylvester.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome bracelet of diamonds and sapphires, while the bridesmaids received pins of pearls and turquoise. The presents, which were numerous and costly testified to the popularity of the recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on last night's boat for Vancouver on their way east to their future home in Cobalt, stopping on the way at Banff, Glacier and Winnipeg. There was a large crowd of relatives and friends down to the boat to see them off and bid them adieu.

The executive of the Tourist Association will meet on Tuesday afternoon for the transaction of business.

Captain and Mrs. Travis, who were stationed in Victoria for over a year, will conduct special meetings in the Salvation Army hall on Broad street on Sunday, June 14th.

Many friends of Mrs. J. D. Forman were entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on Belcher street. Prof. Claudio's orchestra was present and added to the enjoyment of the afternoon. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Nevill, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Holden. Those who assisted in the serving of refreshments were: Miss A. Williams, the Misses Irwin, Miss Renny, Miss Sinclair, Miss Lily Holden, Miss Bone, Miss May Fraser and Miss Dorothy Newman, Miss Archibald, Miss Jean Robinson.

In all the splendor of the elaborate and costly new furnishings which have just been completed, with the Union Jack surmounting the building and flying proudly in the breeze, and with nearly seven hundred guests in attendance, the reception of the Pacific Club was brought off this afternoon in the newly decorated and enlarged club rooms on Broad, Fort and Broughton streets.

The occasion was an "at home" given by the president and the members to friends and prominent citizens to commemorate the opening of the enlarged and newly furnished premises.

The reorganization of the club took place in December, 1904, and at that time the premises comprised one-third of the present space. For the last year, owing to the gradually increasing membership, the club has been building and gradually increasing the size of the rooms until they are now three times the size occupied at the reorganization, three and a half years ago.

These are now complete, and provision has been made to accommodate three hundred members, which number are at present on the roll. Of these all, with the exception of forty, are active resident members, and are nearly all Victorians.

The function this afternoon was arranged to mark the opening of the new premises made necessary by the growth of the Pacific Club, and a committee, consisting of the president, J. G. Wilson, committee men J. Patterson, A. Coles, H. G. Ross, J. H. Lawsoh, Jr., R. S. Oddy, Chas. Hayward, H. Munn, J. Thomson, H. Cuthbert, Major Hibben, A. W. McCurdy, R. F. Taylor, J. Murray, J. C. Harris, C. K. Courtney, L. Finch, J. D. Virtue, secretary, and others, received the guests in the large and lounge room on Fort and Broad streets.

The members present showed the visitors over the new premises in parties, and the decorations and furnishings were greatly admired by all. Of those present this afternoon fully 75 per cent. were ladies, who made the luxurious apartments which the Pacific Club have acquired and completed.

The premises consist of all the top floor of the Pemberton block on Fort, Broad and Broughton streets, all of which is particularly well lighted from the streets named. Considerable alterations have been going on for a year past, and the completed arrangements now are second to none on the Pacific coast for handsome and luxurious club rooms.

The expenditure to date has been for the furnishing alone $14,000, which sum has all been spent in the city among the local houses. The firms have all had spare in the city and all have responded to the limit by producing the handsomest and some of the most costly furnishings that money could procure.

From the main stairway entrance on Broad street the hallway leads from the office to the large lounge room at the corner of Broad and Fort streets, which has been furnished in handsome substantial style, with an Axminster carpet on the floor, and numerous lounges, Morris chairs, rockers, Turkish and deep seated armchairs. The color in this room is brown oak with black leather furnishings and cushions.

From the long lounge room a doorway leads into a comfortable smoking room with a cosy corner in brown leather set into the wall and adjoining the handsome tiled fireplace. A triple window on Broad street provides ample light, and a book case has been introduced at the top of the cosy corner. The color scheme of the room is brown, oak and light brown leather being the predominant features.

The reading room, which is the same size as the first room named, has its outlook on Fort street, lighted by two triple windows. In the centre are four magnificent armchairs, and spread around the room are all manner of chairs which go towards comfort and the relaxation of tired limbs. The color here is the same as in the first room, and the furnishings are augmented by the necessary magazine stands and tables and book cases. A handsome Axminster carpet covers the floor.

From double doors out of this room entrance to the hallway is obtained, and thence to the four private card rooms.

At the far end of the hall is the long billiard room, accommodating six full sized English tables by Brunswick Balke Collender & Company, fitted with Monarch cushions and provided with damp proof covers. The feature of this room is the lighting which has been perfectly provided by six sky lights for day and by an equipment of electric chandeliers for the night. The room is handsome in its appointments, and a large amount has been outlaid to make it equal to any billiard room on the coast. A raised gallery is stationed round the room from which to watch the play.

From the billiard room access is gained to the Broughton street sitting room, where the color scheme is red. Lighted by two bay windows the room is furnished in the same luxurious style as the balance of the premises.

An alcove at the end of the room has been appointed the writing room of the club, and is furnished in keeping with the requirements for which it is to be used. Other rooms on the new premises are the dining room, capable of seating 30 guests at a sitting, and the private dining room leading from it.

the premises, take up the remainder of the space. There is also, however, a handsome bath and toilet room fitted in marble and tiles, comparing with anything on the coast. An additional feature of the club will be the small roof garden on the Broughton street side, which is now in course of construction.

The premises comprise one block on Broad street, 80 feet on Fort street and 30 feet on Broughton street. The club has a lease on the premises for fifteen years at a straight rental, with the option of another five years at an increase after the expiration of the first fifteen years.

The Pacific Club has long been an established institution in the city. For years in rather cramped quarters this business men's organization made themselves quite comfortable. Now with elaborate quarters well fitted up for all the purposes intended, the members are most comfortably provided for.

It was a happy idea on the part of the management to throw the doors open to the ladies and their many invited guests this afternoon between 4 and 6, so that the wives and lady friends may see for themselves the quarters which have been fitted up.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Winnipeg, June 11.—One phase of the Queen's University matter was decided today at the Presbyterian assembly committee by a vote of 55 to 47 to prevent separation, and favoring the retiring allowance for professors. The endorsement question comes up this afternoon.

FATHER KILLS SONS.
Drowns His Two Boys in Order to Spite His Wife.

Simply to spite his wife, Alphonse Robert, a French costermonger, drowned his two sons. The terrible story was related at the Paris Assize court when he was put on his trial.

Robert was a drunkard, and habitually abused his wife. At last the poor woman could stand his brutality no longer and returned to her parents' home, taking her two boys, Charles and Peter, aged 16 and 8 respectively, with her.

Alphonse soon grew tired of being alone, and tried to cajole his wife to return. She refused, and he resorted to threats, whereupon she shot him. He, however, was only wounded slightly.

Mme. Robert was acquitted as having acted in self defence.

Then Robert took up another line. In order to force his wife to return he took the children from her, and when he had to go into hospital temporarily he sent the boys to the Assistance Publique, rather than his wife should have them.

Even this failed to move Mme. Robert, and her husband then sent word to his wife that if she did not return home he would kill the children first and himself afterward.

The police were at once informed of these threats, and the costermonger was summoned to appear before the commissary.

He took no notice of the summons, but sent a violent letter to his wife, saying:

"Wretches, assassins that you are, you and your brother and your mother. You have brought it upon yourselves, and you are the murderers."

Robert actually made his children add this postscript:

"Dear Mamma—Papa was not so very bad after all. It is you who are sending us with father to eternity. But for all that we should have loved you."

The same day he took the boys out, and pushing them from the fortifications into the moat, calmly watched them drown.

SPEED IN SHORTHAND WRITING.

Sidney H. Godfrey, the English champion, who has for two years in succession won the International Shorthand speed championship medal in America, and lost it in the recent contest at Philadelphia, U. S. A., to a man credited with writing 200 words per minute, has returned home dissatisfied with the way in which the contest was conducted.

The wife of the high speed test, he says, consisted of American legal court matter, very familiar to American court reporters, but difficult to outsiders as being technical. All the American champions at the contest were court reporters. The so-called test of 200 words per minute was transcribed by all the American court reporters, a great many of whom could not write 200 words per minute on ordinary straightforward matter. This test consisted of what is known in America as testimony—question and answer. Specially ruled paper was employed, and the words "question" and "answers" were never written. There were 160 of these words, which immediately brings the speed down to 228 words per minute. In addition to this, the Americans who found the speed too high would miss out the whole of a question and trust to the answer to supply it in the transcript, and vice versa, one condition of the contest being that if the "sense" was transcribed contestants would not be penalized, even if the words were different.

Many phrases occur so frequently in court reporting that Americans adopt figures to represent them. For instance the oft-occurring phrase, "Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial" is represented by American court reporters by the figure "3." Mr. Godfrey says that this is not shorthand writing, and should not have been allowed in any international contest, and the judges declared that he had won the world's championship for accurate shorthand writing and transcription. The contest conditions, however, made it worth while to do bad work at a higher speed than good work at a lower.

Mr. Godfrey challenges anyone in America to write at the so-called rate of 260 words per minute on new straightforward matter. The conditions of any future contest, he says, will have to be settled with some Englishmen on the committee.

IN MANITOBA LISTS*Liberals Have to Make Personal Application, While Conservatives Are Put on Indiscriminately-- Provision for Revision Is Insufficient.In the discussion of the reasons which exist for federal intervention in the revision of the voters' lists in Manitoba we have already shown, says the Ottawa Free Press of June 2nd, that the system of personal registration tends itself to manipulation of the lists by the partisan officials of the provincial government; that the plan of revision is inadequate; that appeals are difficult; and that generally the aim is to load the lists.

No Publicity.

A third factor, which helps to render the revision inefficient, is the lack of publicity of the work of the registration clerk. He merely posts the result of each day's work on the door of the place, where he sits to receive applications; and, as in most cases, the bulk of the settlers of his district live from one to 200 miles away,
this can hardly be regarded as a satisfactory way of publishing the results of his work. If, as is not unknown, the revision is arranged to take place four days after close of registration, a man in the distant parts of the district has no chance of knowing what is transpiring in connection with the making up of the lists; and, when there is no more publicity than such as is in vogue in Manitoba, and the revision is rushed on in a few days, the registration and revision might just as well be carried on behind locked doors, with W. H. Hastings, Conservative organizer, as presiding officer.There is scarcely time to serve notices of appeal in cases where the post office addresses are known, and no time whatever to "hunt up" the addresses of people, whose post office addresses do not appear on the register. Under the administration of the Hon. Thomas Greenway, the lists had to be printed and published throughout a constituency 30 days before the court of revision could be held; and, if a man's name was wrongly omitted from the lists, he had plenty of time and ample opportunity to find it out and get himself reinstated at the court of revision. All sorts of manipulation can therefore take place under the present practice.According to the Manitoba order in council, issued on April 25th, the registration in the provincial constituency of Beautiful Plains is to close on June 6th and the revision is to take place at Neepawa on June 10th, between the hours of 1 p. m. and 6 p. m.—five hours for the revision of a widely extended area, with upwards of 2,000 names. The Gimli registration is appointed to close on June 8th and the revision to take place on June 10th. The registration in the constituency of Lakeside is to close on May 30th, and the revision to take place at Macdonald on June 8th, between 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.—five hours again for revising a populous area. The registration in Springfield constituency is to close on June 6th and the revision to take place at Beausejour on June 12th, between 11 a. m. and 6
p. m.—seven hours to revise another very populous constituency.In the case of Beautiful Plains, the time mentioned is not enough to comply with the requirements of the law.
For the registration clerk is permitted to take two days after the close of registration, to make up his list, and the lists have to be in the hands of the revising officer, who in this case lives at Winnipeg, three clear days before the revision takes place. The short time elapsed between the registration and revision in Springfield barely permits the revision being carried out, and the same is practically the case in regard to Lakeside.All this shows that there is no guarantee that the revision will correct the partisan bias of the preliminary lists,
let alone clean up the dead accretions of lapsing years; and, to emphasize the degree of that partisan bias, it is only necessary to cite the following instances:

"Grits" Need Not Apply.

In 1906, a very indiscreet registration
clerk, named Bennett, sent to Bannan
Bay, on the eastern shores of Lake Winnipeg, to receive applications to be put on the list, and when he finished his labors, he wrote to party friends saying: "Nobody applied but a few Grits, and I didn't put their names on, you bet." Twenty-six Liberal voters were refused registration by this official of the Manitoba government. There was some stir made in the newspapers, and, after trying to prevent the names
being put on at the revision, W. H.
Hastings, the Conservative organizer,
had to admit that the men were qualified to vote and they were duly enrolled. In the same year, there was agitation over a similar instance of discrimination, through the partisan prejudice of a registration clerk, in the Selkirk division, and, to save its face, the provincial government introduced a bill to enfranchise seven electors, who had been refused registration.

How Tories Are Favored.

The law says that every person who wishes to be put on the preliminary list
by the registration clerk must attend and make the declaration laid down in the law. This provision is often not carried out in the case of Conservative applicants; and the validity of the registration of names put on without the personal attendance of the applicant was tested before the revising officer at Morris in June, 1906. It appears that the registration clerk had entered on the list three Conservatives who had neither applied personally nor made the customary statutory declaration.
The Liberals contended that, as the law
had not been carried out, the names should not be allowed to stand. But the revising officer over-ruled the objection, and said that, as it had not been shown that they were not entitled to vote, he would not disallow them.
The attorney-general of Manitoba was elected, in the following March, on the casting vote of the returning officer;but, if these three voters had been struck off, as by law they ought to have been, the attorney-general would have been defeated. It will thus be seen that the registration clerk can,
in the interests of the Conservative party, take applications from those who find it inconvenient to attend, and refuse similar applications from Liberals who, through the imperfection of the means of communication or pressure of business, are unable to appear at the registration booth.

Doors Shut on Voters.

There is also an instance of the flagrant bias of a revising officer. The officer's name is Bonnar, and, fortunately, he was not a judge, but merely a revising barrister, which the board of judges have power to appoint to sit in their stead. Bonnar sat in Winnipeg in 1905, and closed his court while hundreds of people were waiting to be registered. The matter was taken to the supreme court on a writ of mandamus to compel the revising officer to reopen his court and give the people a chance to register. The supreme court held that Bonnar had the same right as a county court judge, to keep his court open or adjourn the sitting. The law was right and the officer wrong,
but at the next session of the legislature the government altered the law so that it should not be right again. Bonnar, however, never reopened his court.
Between the time of the application for the mandamus and the time fixed for the hearing, he allowed, with the connivance of the government, his papers to be returned to the government; and thereby surrendered all power to hold any further revision. Consequently there was no redress.

The Moving Spirit.

In the whole series of electoral and registration scandals in Manitoba, since the Conservative government took office in 1898, the moving spirit, which has bred them, has been the government itself. The partisan actions of officials have been, but a reflection of the administrative methods of the provincial government. When, in 1903, the attorney-general himself, for some responsible official in his department, undertook to tear contemptuously from the lists the names of 38 duly qualified electors of Lac du Bonnet, he showed how little there was in the professions of the government that they wanted absolute fairness as between party and party; and since then, every revision has shown that, whatever may be their professions, they mean to take whatever advantage can be obtained through holding the executive control in connection with the administration of their own electoral law. Why, if it was fair to tear out the 38 Lac du Bonnet names, did the attorney-general not tear out
the three Morris names, just as wrongly on the lists? Why does he not declare J. F. Mitchell, Conservative member for North End, Winnipeg, unconstitutionally elected? Mr. Mitchell was elected by the votes of 450 Ruthenians, Poles, and Galicians, illegally naturalized just before the revision, at which they were put on the list; and, instead of promising an investigation, he says Rudenski, who swore to the circumstances of the illegal naturalization, perjured himself for $25, paid him by Geo. Walton, M. P. P. But, if the one is a perjurer, why then is neither prosecuted? It will be objected, of course, that Rudenski is gone; but Mr. Walton is still in Winnipeg, and the Conservatives have the alleged cheque and their folly and Ruthenian friends to back up any action the provincial government may think fit to take.It is shown in the foregoing that the law has been amended again and again to enable the provincial government to take advantage of its position as administrators of public affairs; that the law has been amended to the hands of the registration clerk, have a partisan bias;
and that the Conservative agents at the revision take good care that the partisan bias shall not be removed.MUNICIPAL SUBJECTS.Questions That Are to Be Discussed at

PROGRESS OF B. C.*Says Claim of Individual Miner
in the Yukon Is Passing Away.Col. Donald McGregor, of Dawson
City, is in Winnipeg as a representative from the Presbytery of Westminster, to the general assembly. Before coming to the coast, Col. McGregor represented the British press in the gallery at Ottawa for two years, 1891-2. He was connected with the press of New Westminster and also had a weekly publication of his own at Dawson. He was chairman of the citizens' committee of the Yukon territory, which for some years was the only organization, other than the Dominion government.In conversation with a reporter of the Manitoba Free Press Col. McGregor said that it was seventeen years since he was in Winnipeg.When he first went to the coast the C. P. R. was not built and he went by way of the Isthmus to a country where no one even dreamed of there ever being a city like Vancouver. The site of Vancouver was then a dense forest.Speaking of the Yukon, Col. McGregor said that as far as the Klondike is concerned, the claim of the individual miner is fast passing away, and the mineral land is getting into the possession of large corporations, such as the Guggenheims. The hope of the old-time prospectors is in that section of the country lying to the south of the Yukon, the northern portion of British Columbia, and many are going in there this season. A number of men, he says, are rushing into the district around the Findlay river, where rich strikes are reported.New Areas to Be Colonized.The coast all the way down to Vancouver, is becoming most interesting, and little towns and villages are springing up everywhere. Large numbers are settling in Queen Charlotte's Island, in Prince Rupert, and in Port Essex. The miners and others in the Yukon, who have been successful, are, according to Col. McGregor, turning their thoughts to the prairie provinces and to British Columbia. The Grand Trunk Pacific, the colonel thinks, will open up great opportunities and will act as a factor in settling up the Peace River country. There are vast tracts of land that have not even been explored, even in British Columbia, and this railway will open up much of this for settlement as well as for exploration. Many settlers would take up land in these sections now were there means of access to the country.While in the Yukon, Col. McGregor was prominent in public movements

AUTOMOBILES AND THE PUBLIC.

Our friends in motor cars might as well understand that they are not by any means deeply beloved in this or any other community. In most cases it must be admitted there is no substantial reason for this animosity. The average car driver is just as careful of the rights and persons of unfortunate pedestrians as the driver of any other vehicle. The difference between the case of the driver of an auto-car and the driver of any other kind of vehicle is that the first has great mechanical power at his command and can utilize that power, if he be so minded, to attain greater speed than is safe for either himself or any animate object he may encounter in his mad career, while the speed of other carriages is limited to the natural capacity of a horse, an ass or an ox. It is an established fact that the natural man cannot always resist the temptation to take risks when such powers of locomotion are placed in his hands. He will risk his own bones and the lives of his fellows in the effort to cover a certain space in the shortest possible time. Then he boasts to his fellow owners of cars of his accomplishments. That is a trait of human nature which admittedly cannot be eradicated by mere human enactments. But it does not constitute a valid reason for the public not endeavoring to protect itself against the consequences of the whims of auto men. There are stringent laws in Great Britain relative to rates of speed. These laws are broken every day—and lives are sacrificed every week as a consequence, as a reference to the newspapers and the proceedings of the courts will prove to any one who takes the trouble to consult the same—but still the police never cease in their efforts to enforce the laws. Hence the unpopularity of motor cars in Great Britain and in almost every country in the world.

But the lamentable sacrifice of human life which has followed in the wake of the mechanical car is not the only, perhaps not the chief, reason for the unquestioned unpopularity of the machine and its owners. In the rural districts of Canada and of other countries the auto is by general consent voted a nuisance. It is a demon in the eyes of the superstitious, or nervous, farmer's horse. It frightens him into madness, with the result that his driver is frequently left upon the roadside and his vehicle scattered in fragments along the highway. The auto man, with a fine scorn for the feelings alike of men or women or of horses, acts as though he believed such incidents merely a joke in the day's travel. In too many cases he whips by on the other side, without apology or effort to repair the mischief he has done. He raises great clouds of dust, which settles upon all surrounding objects, with a perverse preference for clothes upon lines and other things of a more or less perishable character.

Now there is no reason in the world why these things should be if the car man, who is quite a reasonable and human creature in his natural habitat, would but conform to the conditions which govern all other methods of transportation. We admit it may be some little time before he can be reformed to his right mind, which predicates making allowances for the prejudices of his less fortunate neighbors. There is absolutely no necessity why he should be in such a tremendous hurry to get over the ground. The enjoyment of travel ought to be quite as keen going at the rate of ten or fifteen miles an hour as flying along at twice that speed. At least so the mere pedestrian or the ordinary horse driver reasons the thing out in his mind. And until this view prevails there can be no end to the crusade against the motor car. People will not be satisfied with the argument that tram cars also sometimes contravene the speed regulations; or that the motor car is such a well governed and easily controlled thing that it can be brought to a standstill almost within the limits of its own length. Street cars are restricted to rails and streets, and people are on the lookout to keep from their path. They do not come flying around corners like a "bolt from the blue," or any other agent of destruction. Besides, they also are amenable to the law, and can be dealt with if persistent offenders. The time may come, say when nervous horses have disappeared from the highways, when men and women no longer move upon the earth after the manner designed by nature, or when heedless, careless, thoughtless children are a curiosity of an advanced age—we admit the time may come when it will be deemed a sign of unprogressiveness to attempt to place a limit upon the speed of motor cars. But in the meantime it would be well for the modern Jekyl with his diving machine to follow the example of scores of automobilists in this city and other places who enjoy the luxury of their machines without abusing their powers.

It may be just as well for the speeders to bear in mind that the crusade to which we have reference is not a mere local manifestation. The agitation is not simply a local affair. In Prince Edward Island there is a law excluding motor cars entirely from the public roads of the province. It is proposed to apply a similar law in Ontario for certain days of the week. In Great Britain an application was made to the courts but a short time ago by a prominent man for the privilege of carrying a gun as the only apparent means of protecting himself and his household against the newest development of the scorching fraternity. And the judge to whom the application was made did not consider the request altogether unreasonable. So that the agitation is general. It will hardly be contended under the circumstances that there are no abuses in connection with the running of cars that require abating. The owners in Victoria should therefore endeavor by their actions to make allowances for something they doubtless regard as prejudice founded upon ignorance.

SIR HIBBERT TUPPER'S WISDOM.

The most sensational political development of the day is the announcement of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper that he has withdrawn his candidature in the constituency of Pictou, that he will not be a candidate in Vancouver, that he will take no part whatever in the next federal campaign, and that he has permanently retired from public life. Our readers will remember that Sir Hibbert announced a short time ago that he was in the hands of his leader, Mr. Borden; that in his course he would be guided absolutely by the counsel of his chief. It will scarcely be seriously contended that the ablest and the most prominent Conservative in British Columbia was advised by the leader of the Conservative party to retire into private life. Those who understand the spirit of the Tupper family will comprehend what would happen should a command issue from any source to the most aggressive and the most ambitious of the members of that political house. The suggestion must therefore be dismissed as preposterous. The situation admits of very little speculation. It implies either that Sir Hibbert and Mr. Borden have disagreed upon some matter of fundamental importance having a direct connection with the political situation in British Columbia or elsewhere, or that Sir Hibbert, with that foresight which has been a prominent feature of his diagnosis of the situation as it affected his party in the past, entertains no hope of success in the immediate future, and has determined to stick to his private business.

The supporters of Mr. McBridge will doubtless contend that he and his dear friend and party manager, Mr. R. F. Green, between whom and Sir Hibbert Tupper there is a bitter feud, were instrumental in the political downfall of the only flower of British Columbia's knighthood. But it is inconceivable that such a doubtful champion as Sir Hibbert would ever lower his lance to such varlets. Again the idea is preposterous. There is but one reasonable explanation: that Sir Hibbert knew there was little chance of his success in Pictou and less probability of the success of the party over the whole political field.

Outpost Magazine (Vancouver): The bias of party prejudice and the exigencies of party weakness, together with the fact that a prophet very seldom receives full recognition in his own day or country, may prevent us from recognizing to the full the greatness of the contribution of one man to this increasing harmony between the French-Canadian and English-speaking parts of our national life, but when the history of this unification comes to be properly understood and properly appreciated, the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not be the least respected or honored. One must, as far as possible, stand outside the dust and din and pettiness of party conflict and follow carefully the varied movements and influences which have led to this most desirable of results, to have even a slight idea of how much our present Canadian Premier has done in this respect. And, as Canadian people, we ought to be willing to honor him for this, even if on other grounds we may not be quite prepared to concede any unusual gifts or greatness.

Major Hodgins has made so many conflicting statements in his confessions that we really cannot remember whether he, in one of his many moments of weakness, took back what he said about his interview with the Colonel. But the Major did say in his evidence, given under oath, that "neither his thoughts nor his words" were published in the interview. It would have been well for the Major and his repudiated organ had he destroyed that interview with the other documentary evidence he said he had in his possession.

Another political has come into being in British Columbia. The name of the latest is the Outpost Magazine of Vancouver. The Outpost, if it maintains the high standard set in its initial number, ought not only to achieve success from a material point of view—it should have an admirably steady effect upon the life of the city in which it is published, and an educative effect upon the life of the province at large. We believe it may be said without offence that the city of Vancouver is subject in an especial degree to the weaknesses, while it unquestionably possesses the advantages, of a new and rapidly growing community. Its public opinion is unstable and hysterical. We have had several examples of the consequences of such hysteria of late. The Outpost gives every evidence of a desire to regulate rather than to feed the fires of ignorance and unreason. It is a well-written, splendidly printed and generally interesting magazine. Among its contributors are many of the leading literary men of Canada.

There may be some trouble about water in Victoria during the summer, but there is no reason why we should not entertain a lively hope of better things next year. There is plenty of water in Elk Lake. The one thing needful is appliances to bring it in and distribute it. These will be provided before next summer, according to an expert with a continental reputation as an engineer.

The steamer Lusitania is at it again. There is evidently an amiable rivalry between the Clyde and the Tyne in these record-breaking performances. The Clyde has had a trifle the better of the argument thus far. There is great satisfaction in the fact that the contest for supremacy is between two British yards.

The retirement of Sir Hibbert Tupper, the uprising of Col. Sam Hughes against his party, and various other facts which might be mentioned, demonstrate how beautiful is the harmony which reigns in the leadership and the ranks of the Conservative party at this time when a general election is believed to be imminent.

The hangman in Russia is a busy man these days. The turn of the bomb thrower will come next.

What Other People Think

THE ACCIDENT TO MR. CROSS.

To the Editor:—I have carefully read the account of the accident to Mr. H. H. Cross, as stated by himself in the Times of June 9th, and while it is a clear and plain statement of the sad accident I must, however, correct his statement. "They, however, scattered in confusion like a flock of sheep," etc.

As the first person to get to Mr. Cross after the train had passed over him, I consider that everything that could be done was done, and promptly so.

It was to myself that Mr. Cross said: "Get something and make a tourniquet and stop my bleeding to death." The nearest thing to hand was my own white pocket handkerchief, which I put round while supporting his back against my knees. The yardmaster, coming up at the time, tied the knot and put through a piece of wood, which, when tightened up, was held for a time by Mr. Cross himself. The train was backed up, Mr. Cross plied in the car and run to Victoria, where a wait of some four or five minutes occurred before the arrival of medical attendance.

I must say I was somewhat surprised at the quiet and expeditious manner in which the whole was done after the sad affair. Neither do I infer any delay on the part of medical attendance, but only state the facts as they occurred.

To me Mr. Cross previously was unknown, but he has my sincere sympathy, which I am willing to put into practical form should any responsible person feel disposed to take the matter up.

In conclusion, my only reason for troubling you is to give my side of the case and to show that those employed on the train did all they possibly could with promptitude after the accident.

THE PRINGLE CHARGES.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

The desperate depth to which the opposition has descended in its efforts to find material with which to carry on its campaign of obstruction was well illustrated yesterday, when the whole of the time of the House of Commons was devoted to a discussion of the charges brought by Rev. John Pringle, a Presbyterian missionary in the Yukon, against certain officials in that territory.

It is true that the charges were of so grave a nature that when they were formally made to the government the minister of the interior at once ordered an investigation by Commissioner Henderson of the Yukon. But when the time came for the inquiry Mr. Pringle conveniently declined to proceed because the investigating officer was not clothed with the powers of a Royal commissioner. One would have thought that a man so apparently soul-zealous for the regeneration of the Yukon would have availed himself of any opportunity to have his charges investigated to the bottom; yet the exact contrary was the case with Mr. Pringle.

While this decision on his part may be surprising to people in the East, it is no surprise to those who are aware of the true situation in the Yukon. Rev. John Pringle is more than a missionary; he is an active politician. He was most anxious to get the Liberal nomination for the House of Commons, but was defeated in the Yukon, against certain officials in that territory.

It is not merely a preacher and a politician. He has also been a prospector, and is the happy owner of a claim on Christmas Creek, so-called because this devoted missionary discovered it on Christmas Day. He was elected to the Yukon council and sat for a whole year alongside Messrs. Girouard and Lithgow, the targets of his abuse now, yet he never once then charged them with leading immoral lives or with violating public decency. It was only after the miners declined to send him back to the council that he assumed his role of self-appointed censor of the morals of the Yukon.

He is fond now of condemning ex-Commissioner F. T. Congdon and holding him up to public obloquy, yet it is not so many years since he sat at a banquet given by the citizens of Dawson in honor of that gentleman, and was loudest amongst those who acclaimed his services to Canada and to the Yukon.

Consistency is a jewel, the possession of which Mr. Pringle has evidently not yet met.

Sixteen ounces of gold are sufficient to gild a wire that would encircle the earth.

HISTORIC HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

"Maple Bank" Was Burned to the Ground Last Evening.

One of the historic buildings of the district, "Maple Bank," was burned to the ground last night at Esquimalt. The place was the residence of A. C. McCallum, who inherited it from his father, Captain McCallum. It was built about sixty years ago, and it was used as a residence for four successive generations. It was also occupied by Mr. Thompson, formerly of the Victoria Gasworks. Captain McCallum entered into occupation of it in 1885, and the family have used it ever since.

Maple Bank was a large building, constructed partly of brick and partly of frame. The timbers were huge logs hewn out as they came from the forest. The building had a frontage of about sixty feet, running back something like eighty feet, and having two stories, as well as a large brick basement. There were about 14 rooms in the house.

The fire started last evening just after six o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. McCallum were absent at the time, but their son, assisted by some other boys, attempted to put it out without success. The vessels in the harbor, over which the building had a commanding view, were signalled, and various crews sent bodies of men in boats to the scene.

A force of sixty men from the ships Agamemnon and Restorer were quickly organized by Captain Davis, of the former, and formed a bucket brigade, with which a supreme effort was made to bring the fire under control. The efforts were, however, unavailing, as the dryness of the timbers lent themselves so well to the ravages of the flames.

When it was found that the building could not be saved an effort was made to save the furniture, and all from the first story was removed; but upstairs everything was burned, including some valuable jewellery. The fire started in the roof and burned its way downwards. Mr. McCallum, who was in the house when the fire broke out, did not reach the scene until the fire had destroyed the building.

Beautifully situated, the residence was surrounded by the finest collection of maple trees probably in the province. It will not be rebuilt.

HOLT LINER PELEUS ENCOUNTERED TYPHOON

Came From Sound To-day to Discharge Large Local Cargo.

While on her present trip across the Pacific from Yokohama to the strait of Juan de Fuca, the Holt liner Peleus, which returned from Seattle and Tacoma this morning, encountered a terrific typhoon. On May 1st at noon the barometer fell rapidly, and during the typhoon the lowest reading was 28.56. The Peleus ran out of the storm about midnight on June 1st, and had a fair wind to port. Off Flattery the steamship experienced fog for 24 hours, and was several hours late in reaching William Head.

At Seattle the Holt liner discharged 300 tons of general freight, at Tacoma 200 tons, and she is now putting out 900 tons for local consignees at the outer dock. The remainder of her cargo, amounting to 1,400 tons, is for Vancouver. At Penang the Peleus discharged 500 tons of cargo, at Singapore 1,500, and at Hongkong 1,250 tons.

Owing to the boycott against Japanese steamships at Hongkong the Holt liner obtained the 261 Chinese passengers who were released from quarantine yesterday.

Capt. Hannah, who commands the Peleus, was formerly here in the Holt liner Calchas.

LONDON'S GREATEST RIVAL.

"Manchester," says Cassell's Saturday Journal, "is now the heart of the most congested industrial area in the world, and may some day challenge the supremacy of London. Manchester is the world's metropolis! It is difficult to conceive, but what a centre is the city of cotton. From all points of the compass business men flock to its exchange, the biggest commercial market on earth. Its banking returns are larger than those of any city in the country except London, and the volume of business at its post office is the greatest in the provinces and Scotland. Glasgow, the 'second city of the Empire,' claims to come next to the metropolis for postal and telegraph transactions; but a former postmaster-general pronounced in favor of Manchester. Cottonopolis is, too, the greatest newspaper and periodical producing city in the provinces, while more trains run to it from London than to any other of the big towns. Smaller cities as Leicester—have a slightly more frequent communication with the metropolis; but that is because of their situation or, in other words, because they are actually on one or more main lines."

The average yearly income of the Indian working man is $6.50.

—The Times' office is open every evening excepting Sunday for the transaction of business.

—The members of the Victoria police force will not take part in annual sports of the Vancouver force which will be held in that city July 22nd. The reason for this is that the Vancouver force refuse to return the visits of the local men. Members of the Victoria force have often taken part in the sports at the Terminal city and last year won for the second time in succession the tug-of-war cup, thus giving them the ownership of it. Following this the local men invited the members of the Vancouver force over to this city to take part in the sports in connection with fall exhibition, which trophy for which was the handsome Player's cup. The Terminal city men turned down this invitation, hence the local men will do the same thing with theirs this year.

The person who buys any other tea always hopes it will be "as good" as "Salada."

—The Times' office is open every evening excepting Sunday for the transaction of business.

—The sergeants' mess of the Fifth regiment will hold its regular monthly meeting at the drill hall this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

—Mrs. A. E. Collins is about to erect a modern bungalow residence on Cardborough Bay road, and has awarded the contract to D. H. Bale.

—A general meeting of the members of the Victoria-West Athletic Association will be held on Saturday evening at 8 p.m. As business of the association will be discussed it is hoped that every member will be present.

—Owners of automobiles, millionaires and multi-millionaires, resident and visiting in the city of Victoria, are notified that the police have absolutely no power to restrict the limit of their generosity on Pound Party Day at the Orphanage, Hillside avenue, to-morrow, June 15th.

—The case of the Anglo-American Lumber Company vs. McLennan was commenced yesterday in the Court of Appeal, and concluded this morning, the court consisting of Justices Irving, Morrison and Clement. This was a suit for the payment of a promissory note for $5,000 given in payment for stock. Part of the inducement for taking the stock was that McLennan and his son should be taken into the company's employ. They were employed temporarily but soon dropped. C. A. Craig is for the appellant and J. A. Russell for the respondent. Judgment was reserved.

—The closing examinations are now going on in the public schools of the city in the senior grades, and both teachers and pupils are working overtime in order to get the extra work done before the holidays. The closing will take place on Friday, June 26th, previous to the eight weeks' holiday to which all are now looking forward, with the exception, perhaps, of a few overworked parents.

—John Hayes, who was convicted of picking pockets at the exhibition in this city last September, has been released from jail on orders from the authorities at Ottawa, and deported from this country. Since Hayes was convicted all the authorities whom she thought had any jurisdiction in the matter, have been in receipt of numerous letters from Hayes' wife, each more piteous than the previous one, asking for her husband's release on the ground that she and her two children were destitute.

PERSONAL

J. Guthrie, representing the F. H. Rice Lumber Company, of St. Louis, has been visiting Victoria for the purpose of considering the possibilities of establishing a cash and door-factory here with a capacity of 2,000 per day. The company he represents have acquired control of the sawmill at Cowichan, and if the new industry is established here it will be in connection with the mill there.

A. W. Ashton, special officer from Sydney, Australia, left last night for a trip to Portland to visit his brother, and will return in steamer to connect with the out-bound steamer Maritima on the 19th.

Mrs. M. J. Lee and Mrs. J. C. Spock, of San Francisco, returned to Victoria from Revelstoke board of trade. One of the ladies has been absent from the city for thirty-two years and finds great changes and improvements in the city on her return.

C. J. Savage and mother are on their way to London, England. Mr. Savage is bookkeeper for the Victoria Machinery Depot, and he left here on Saturday, the day previous to the fire. The company he represents expects to remain away for three months.

George S. McCarter, Alexander McRae, W. M. Lawrence and C. B. Hume, of the Revelstoke board of trade, who headed the deputation to the executive council yesterday, left on the Princess Victoria this morning for Revelstoke.

J. S. Barstard, of Spokane, N. Magnum, L. J. Mork and C. G. Gorder, of Souris, who have been on a surveying trip up the Island, are again in town and registered at the Dominion.

Chas. E. Bailey left for Prince Rupert a few days ago. He intends looking over the ground with the idea of taking railroad contracts on the G. T. P. construction.

C. W. Slater, of Mexico City, arrived on the San Francisco steamer this morning and is registered at the King Edward.

Russell B. Reid, of England and C. R. Reid, of Kelowna, B. C., are registered at the Empress.

OARSWOMEN ROW IN "BLOOMER" COSTUME

Two "Fair Sex" Crews Out Training Every Morning for J. B. A. A. Regatta.

For some mornings past the novel but highly interesting sight of eight fair oarswomen, in a couple of crews of four, may be seen paddling their craft through the sunlit waters of the harbor. These oarswomen have adopted the "bloomer" costume to expedite their movements in the boats and continuous training has brought them to a degree of proficiency which many of the sterner sex might envy.

Inquiry as to the reason of these somewhat unusual evolutions at the early hour of 7 a. m., has elicited the fact that the two crews are in training for the J. B. A. A. regatta. As far as is known they will not row under the colors of the James Bay club, which, be it remembered, is a strictly masculine organization. A race will, however, be included for them on the programme, and by the 27th inst. the amount of training which they have undergone will doubtless enable them to compete over a distance of three-quarters of a mile.

This feature will add yet another attraction to the regatta which has always been productive of so much interest locally. The J. B. A. A. officials are, it is rumored, regretting the fact that they will be unable to charge for admission on the day when the two fair crews compete.

The names of the ladies—whose ages it is stated range from 18 to 20 years—with the positions in the boats are as follows:
Boat 1—Miss Edith Wilkinson (stroke), Miss Hanley (No. 3), Miss J. Wilkinson, (No. 2), Miss J. Donaldson, (No. 1).
Boat 2—Miss P. Clay (stroke), Miss Skinner, (No. 3), Miss Walker, (No. 2), Miss Watelet, (No. 1).

In connection with the above race are the officials of the J. B. A. A. are anxious that someone in the city, who is interested in the development of athletics among the ladies of Victoria, will be kind enough to donate a prize, or if possible a perpetual trophy.

TRAP SHOOTERS.

Important Meet Arranged to Take Place at the Willows Traps.

On the 14th instant there will be a particularly interesting shoot of the Capital Gun Club at their traps at the Willows. The principal event on this occasion will be Curtis' and Harris' cup shoot, which is open to members of either the Victoria or the Capital clubs. This will be at 50 singles, 30 of which will be at unknown angles, and 20 reverse (use of both barrels).

There will be two other open events, that for the Winsby medal and also the Captain's trophy. It is not probable that on this occasion there will be a team shoot between the two local clubs, for the Victoria club has not yet accepted the challenge of the other. They meet on Tuesday next, when the matter will be considered, and it is expected the challenge will be accepted and the series of events arranged.

The Capital have arranged a rather novel method of recognizing merit among its members. The scheme is to present shooters in each club who make ten straight, the first link of a bronze chain, to which a link will be added for each subsequent straight ten birds.

—There was a large attendance of young people at St. John's hall last evening, the occasion being the conclusion of the winter session of the Anglican Young People's Association. A large number of young people of the various English churches were present. CANADA'S LACROSSE TEAM AT OLYMPIC

Two Westminster Men Certain of Places—To Tour Old Country.

The lacrosse team which is to represent Canada at the Olympic games this summer has practically been chosen, and is conceded to be the strongest amateur aggregation in the country. Two Westminster men will be on the team, Pat Feeney playing centre, and Tom Gifford is almost certain of a place on the defence. The other members of the team are: Bruce Mitchell, of Toronto, will play goal, and Clarry McKerrrow and Willie Laidlaw are certain for the defence. The home is practically complete. Paddy Brennan will play inside with Hobbins outside, while Ernie Hamilton, Johnny Broderick, and another, yet to be picked, will comprise the home field, Gus Dillon, of the Shamrocks, will play on the defence.

The team, which will be managed by Ald. Wm. Foran, of Ottawa, will be complete by August 15th. Arrangements are now being made, and the Olympic team will play matches in Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto before leaving for the Old Country. They will play either the pick of Toronto, the Tecumseh at Toronto, and the pick of Montreal or Shamrocks, if they are leaders in the N. L. U., at Montreal. An all-star team, however, is likely to oppose the tourists in Montreal or Toronto. In Ottawa they will meet the Capitals.

After the lacrosse tournament in England, the Canadian twelve will probably make a tour of the Old Country, covering the ground which the Capitals went over last year. They will play five or six games in England, and it is likely that the Australian or American team will accompany them through England, giving exhibitions in all the important lacrosse centres. The teams will be away from Canada five or six weeks.

PRACTICE TO-NIGHT.
There will be a big lacrosse practice to-night at the Royal grounds in preparation for the match against Vancouver on Saturday. At the conclusion of the game the team will be picked that will represent this city. The difficulty is always with the lads getting away, but it is thought that if this can be arranged there will be a pretty strong team in the field that will give a fairly satisfactory account of themselves.

THE RIFLE. WILL SHOOT HERE.

At the general executive meeting of the Provincial Rifle association held at the drill hall, Vancouver, a resolution to hold the next prize meeting at Victoria was passed. New Westminster voted with the Victoria delegates on the motion. This will necessitate cutting down the number of matches, as Victoria will have only ten targets to Vancouver's sixteen. At present Victoria possesses only eight, but arrangements are being made to put in two more.

The dates of the annual prize meeting were fixed for July 20th, 21st and 22nd. Certain alterations were also made to the rules and regulations, the most important of which concerned the matter of ties. There was trouble over this question last year and the council decided to return to the Dominion Rifle association instead of the B.C. Rifle association.

The number of the competitors for the St. Charles Challenge Shield for this season was reduced from six to five a side. The 1,000-yard range was cut out of all aggregates, and the cadets and green-shot matches were eliminated. The Vancouver Bankers and Lieutenant-Governor's matches were consolidated into one match of ten shots at 800 and ten shots at 900 yards.

Instructions were given to the programme committee to arrange the matches for the meeting according to these alterations.

BASEBALL. VANCOUVER ADVANCING.

The Vancouverites in the Northwestern League have got the goat of the champions for fair. They beat Aberdeen again yesterday making seven out of eight games, and jumped into third place. Manager Bob Brown has always contended that Dode Brinker could not be beaten if he was given half decent support, and as Dode was the only pitcher on his staff who had a win over the Canbeks, he sent the big fellow out to the mound yesterday.

Dode lasted three innings, during which time he was stung for five runs, made for the most part on errors. Then he was yanked out and Grover Doyle, another Seattle boy, was substituted. Warren Hall pitched that lazy curve ball that simply gets the batters flailing in the box trying to get a crack at it, held the champions safe all the way, and he was backed up by the sensational fielding that has become a habit with the Vancouver men.

Ham Hyatt was not feeling very well—the weather rather depressed him—so he did not get any home runs yesterday. Instead he contented himself with a two-base hit and a brace of singles. This big, homely cuss can't hit a lick on earth.

HIGH SCHOOL OUT.
The High school has dropped out of the baseball league. A game was scheduled to take place last evening, but before the time arrived the school boys notified President Brace that they could not put a team in the field, and the game was accordingly called off.

A meeting of the executive of the league has been called for to-morrow afternoon at 5.30 at the Y. M. C. A. rooms for the purpose of rearranging the schedule. There is general regret that the High school has been unable to play out the series, but it was hard to see how they could do so when the schools break up in a couple of weeks from now, and already the University classes are dispersed. The fact that they are now in the thick of examinations makes it awkward for the boys to go into any sports for the next few days.

THE TURF. SEATTLE'S BIG EVENT.

Entries for the harness racing events at Seattle on September 7th to 12th under the direction of the Western Washington Fair and Driving Association, include many fast horses and assure a season of first class sport. The Seattle races are the third series in the programme of the North Pacific fair circuit. The opening events will be run at Bellingham and Everett. The Seattle races will come immediately before the two Oregon meetings.

Entries for the early closing events were closed on May 25th, but Secretary Wisdom has just completed their classification. The Seattle sport programme and the list of entries follow:

Monday, September 7th—Puguet Sound purse, 2,175 trotters, $1,000; pacing, 2,25 class, $500 (late closing).

Tuesday, September 8th—Alaska-Yukon purse, 2,15 pacers, $1,000; trotting, 2,40 class, $500 (late closing).

Wednesday, September 9th—Rural Spirit purse, 2,10 trotters, $1,000; pacing, 2,20 class, $700 (late closing).

Thursday, September 10—Queen City purse, 2,25 trotters, $1,000; pacing, three-year-old class, $400.

Saturday, September 12th—Rapid Transit purse, 2,05 pacers, $1,000; trotting, 2,15 class, $500.

YACHTING. CLUB MEETING.

The Victoria Yacht Club has appointed trustees for the newly acquired property and the new club house which is to be erected at once. At the meeting in the Pioneer hall a financial statement was read showing that there was almost enough money on hand to pay for the building but that other conveniences would be needed and that it would be advisable to sell a few more debentures. The trustees elected were as follows: D. Dolg, manager of the Bank of B. N. A., W. Chambers and F. O'Reilly.

CRICKET. LOCAL MATCH.

The chief cricket fixture this week will be the match on Saturday afternoon between the Victoria club and the Garrison. The latter team is not very strong this year, making a better match with the Albions than they do with the Victorias. At the same time the match is likely to be an interesting one. It will be played on the Work Point grounds.

ATHLETICS. LONGBOAT FOR ENGLAND.

Montreal, June 11.—Tom Longboat, the celebrated Indian Marathon runner, leaves for England by the "Empress of Britain" to-morrow to compete in the Olympic games at London.

RUGBY FOOTBALL. BRITISH TEAM BEATEN.

The British Rugby team played the second match of their tour through New Zealand at Wellington, their opponents being a representative fifteen of the Wellington Union. Harding, the English captain, was absent from the side, being disabled. Glorious weather prevailed, and a crowd of 18,000 people witnessed the game, which was very fast throughout.

The ground was in fairly good condition. The Colonials, who won the first half, and at the interval led by one goal and two tries to 'nill. Roberts, Harding and Green scored the tries, the second being converted by Wallace. On crossing over the home side continued to hold the upper hand, and Thompson put them further ahead with a fine try, which was converted by Roberts. The British team then

"O! MY POOR HEAD" STOP THOSE HEADACHES.

Headache and neuralgia are pronounced signs of blood poisoning. This poisoning of the blood comes from the waste matter of the body being left in the system, instead of being regularly carried off by the bowels, kidneys and skin.

When the bowels do not move regularly, the refuse is absorbed by the blood. Thus, the blood is loaded with foul poisons which irritate the nerves. Poor skin action also causes headache and neuralgia. Impurities cannot escape through the skin, so the blood must take them up and deposit them on the nerves.

If the bowels and skin are not riding the system of waste, the kidneys try to do so and are overworked. There is just one way to cure headaches and neuralgia—to regulate bowels, kidneys and skin so that all the poisons of the body will be properly carried off.

"Fruit-a-lives" keep blood pure and rich—relieve the stomach and kidneys—regulate the bowels; and invigorate the skin to healthy action. "Fruit-a-lives" are a wonderful discovery, being a combination of fruit juices and tonics. 50c a box—six for $2.50. At all dealers, or from "Fruit-a-lives" Limited, Ottawa.

played up well, and scored a try through J. P. Williams. Shortly after Lewis Williams got over with another, which was converted by Dyke, and a third was scored by McEvedy. Dyke again took the kick and placed a fine goal from a difficult angle. The visitors had thus reduced their opponents' lead to three points, but before the end came Mitchemson scored, another try for the Wellingtonians, who won by 2 goals and 3 tries to 2 goals and 1 try. The British backs were very erratic up to the interval, but showed considerable improvement afterwards. Their kicking into touch was excellent. A feature of the game was the capital heeling of the British pack.

THE KING. JACK O'BRIEN WINS.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 11.—Jack O'Brien last night defeated Jack Blackburn (colored) in a six-round bout before the National Athletic Club. O'Brien knocked Blackburn down in the opening round, and in the final round had the colored man hanging on to avoid punishment. The bout was one of the fastest ever seen in this city.

GENERAL NOTES.

Vancouver baseball team is to be congratulated on winning the series of games against the champions of last year. The Aberdeens will feel the loss very much as it will affect their finances. They are said to have lost money last year when they were the champion team, so they can hardly expect to finance well when losing. The move up of the Vancouverites is proving quite a sensation. Everyone thought the team had given way to despair, but these recent games have given them an eye on the championship. If they do not win that they may end up in a prominent place.

Oak Bay junior baseball team beat the Pandoras ten to three at Oak Bay last evening. The game was a pretty good one, and a number of spectators gathered to watch.

Charlie Mason may not be able to play lacrosse for a while as he has a sore leg, which has been giving him trouble for some time past.

The Victoria baseball nine will practice to-night at 6.30, when a scratch game will be played.

PETE LINTON TO BOX.

JOE GRIM HERE.

Event Expected to Take Place.

in Royal Athletic Park.

Soon.

Pete Linton will in all probability meet Joe Grim, the "Iron Man," in this city. That is the announcement made by Robert Foster, who is looking after Pete's interests here. Definite arrangements have not yet been made, but it is expected that everything will be fixed up to-day, and that the match will come off.

The plan as outlined is to bring the event off in the open air in front of the grandstand at the Royal Athletic park. There will be several preliminary series, among them being a boxing bout between a pair of bantam weights, very small but very clever. Then there will be club swinging, and dumbbell stunt, after which the real business will commence. Other features may be added, but a definite announcement will be made in the near future.

PIMPLES AND BOILS.

HEALED BY ZAM-BUK.

Mr. Joseph Arnsault resides at Cascompe, P. E. I., and says: "About five months ago sores broke out on my body. Since then I have been afflicted with pimples which in the form of small boils would grow until they got as large as a nickel. I used Carbolic Salve with-out effect. I saw Zam-Buk advertised in the papers and secured some, and daily applications of this healing balm for one week effected a permanent cure. Since then I have recommended Zam-Buk to my brother for boils on his knee, and also used it again myself for a poisoned finger. In both cases with marvellous results. I can not recommend Zam-Buk too highly."

Zam-Buk, the great skin healer, can be obtained at any drug or general store for 50 cents a box, or postpaid from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

The Times office is open every evening excepting Sunday for the transaction of business.

There are reckoned to be 100,000,000 head of cattle in the world.

LADIES' DAY AT RACE COURSE

ANOTHER DAY'S GOOD SPORT AT THE MEET

Results of Yesterday's Tests of Speed at Victoria Driving Park.

With continued good weather the second day's racing of the Victoria Racing Association's June meeting was brought off successfully yesterday before another large and enthusiastic attendance. The day was Ladies' Day and several hundred ladies accepted the association's invitation to be present. Among them were many prominent society ladies from Seattle who came over for the day and left again before the finish on the evening boat. The city band dispensed music and popular airs to the enjoyment of the visitors, who did not stint their appreciation of the programme, the racing and the manner in which it was conducted.

The events yesterday were carried out with the same dispatch as on Tuesday, and the programme in bringing the horses to the post, and the arrangements as a whole, were as good as could be desired. A feature of the day was the speedy half mile won by Ravaria in 50 seconds, being the same time as the previous record beaten on Tuesday by Mentry on Nonie Lucille. The race was a surprise to many and the winner was certainly "one out of the bag," starting a long shot at fifteen to one, and clipping up the fast track one-fifth of a second behind Tuesday's new record. Scharr in the ribs at the post delayed the start, but the horses were finally got away without disastrous results although Jockey Carson had a narrow escape from a broken leg by the fractious Diamond's kicking.

For the other events the third and sixth called for most notice. In the third Bobby Harrington, aged 14 and weighing fifty-seven pounds, was given a mount on Golden Wave, for which he had to make weight to 102. The odd 45 pounds was made up with all the lead the youngster could carry in his saddle, an old suit of clothes, a sweater, an extra pair of boots and a few stones tucked away in his jockey boots, the extra weight being almost as much as his own body. Outside the scrap iron and old clothing, the youngsters wore the orange, black and white colors of Lowenstein.

Bobby led the field for the first three furlongs on the rails and for the first time round passed and stood in the same position with Santo and Tejon hanging to him. At the entrance turn, however, he gave way and lost his position, and with it the race. Santee took up the running and the inside position, and remained in front till the third. The lead was loudly cheered for his plucky riding and when he dismounted was called to the judges' stand and congratulated. He will be given another mount to-day. The sixth at five furlongs produced a clipper, the first money being gained in a half an hour with Nonie Lucille ridden by Mentry, and closely pressed by Zelma, who took the horses all the way round, making the pace from the start and winning second place from E. C. Runt by half a length. The finish was a surprise to many who were looking to see the favorite which started at 4 to 1 win by a street.

Mentry yesterday added another win to his total. Of the jockeys, he now holds first place with six wins for nine mounts, the closest to him being Berry with two wins and one second. Nonie Lucille, with two wins for the meeting at four and five furlongs, is the front horse to be dished to.

Winning owners are Gabriel, the owner of Lucille, three: Coffee, two, and McNeill, Fitzgerald, Hennessy, Stone and Martin one each.

Golden Wave will now be sent over to Seattle again, her owner having brought the horse over to see her run, and declaring himself satisfied with the performance of yesterday with Bobby Harrington up.

The results of the events yesterday are as follows: "Driving—Two straight heats, won by Plot McGregor, in 2:28 and 2:27 1/4. Four furlongs—Ravaria (1), E. C. Runt (2), Diamond (3); time 50 seconds.

One mile—Santee (1), Tejon (2), Lucree (3); time, 1:46 2-5 seconds. Seven furlongs—Lady Mirthful (1), Francisco (2), Our Sallie (3); time, 1:30 4-5 seconds.

Six furlongs—Ladies Beauty (1), Callis (2), Bounayne (3); time, 1:17 seconds.

Five furlongs—Nonie Lucille (1), Zelina (2), E. C. Runt (3); time 1:03 2-5. The following is a list of the money won to date:

REALTY SALES WITHOUT TITLES.

(Special Correspondence). Prince Rupert, June 8.—The day Prince Rupert is probably the only town on the map where no title can be had for real estate, and where still properties are changing hands for good considerations. This fact was evidenced here the other day when the Know hotel was purchased by Jerry Bonneau, formerly of Nelson, for a sum reported to be $1,400 in gold.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.
Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces, excepting 8 and 24, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person, male or female, who is at least 21 years of age, the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres. Application for homestead entry must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local agent or Sub-Agent, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail. In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled and the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim. An application for inspection must be made in person. The applicant must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of. A homesteader whose entry is in good standing, and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of the Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment. Where an entry is summarily cancelled, or voluntarily abandoned, or subject to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to priority of entry. Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entered in error, it may be summarily cancelled. DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following plans:— (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land each year during the term of three years. (2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother. (3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming lands owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so. COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years as an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined. QUARTZ.—A person who has discovered, or, over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,000 x 1,000 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5. At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year. The claim must be recorded in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 per acre. The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 5% per cent. on the sales. Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5, renewable yearly. An applicant may obtain two leases to dredge for gold or five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior. The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 25% per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000. W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

of the day, made entirely of native medicinal roots and without a drop of alcohol in its composition. There are no secrets—all its ingredients being printed on the bottle-wrappers.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only builds up the strength of the feeble, debilitated, languid, nervous and easily fatigued, whether young or aged, but it enriches and purifies the blood, thus making the improvement lasting. It corrects and overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, torpid liver, chronic diarrhoea and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. Bronchial, throat and laryngeal affections, attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, and all manner of catarrhal affections are cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery."

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the nasal passages out freely with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as a constitutional treatment. Old obstinate cases of catarrh yield to this thorough course of treatment.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. Old open, running sores, or ulcers, are healed by taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" internally and applying Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local dressing. The Salve can be had of druggists, or will be sent by return mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Address Doctor Pierce as below for it.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases. The reason Why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

WRECKAGE MAY HAVE BEEN FROM HARTFIELD

Overlooker for Ill-fated Vessel's Owners Makes Report on Examination.

A letter has been received by Capt. J. G. Cox, Lloyd's agent, from England, stating that the wreckage picked up on the west coast of Vancouver Island last January which was sent to Lloyd's by Capt. Cox, has been examined by the overlooker of Walsby & Co., owners of the British ship Hartfield, to which the wreckage is thought to belong, and that he had been unable to positively identify it. The wreckage sent home consisted of a lifebelt, bearing in pencil, the inscription "Hartfield, Liverpool," and an arm of an oak setttee. The latter may positively have belonged to the Hartfield, according to the overlooker's report.

There is no doubt, however, that the Hartfield, which was an iron, fullrigged ship, commanded by Capt. Sanderson and manned by a crew of 20 men, was lost between Hesquett and Pachena in one of the terrific storms which swept the coast early in January. She left Valparaiso on October 26 for Tacoma, and would be just about off the entrance to Juan de Fuca strait at the time when heavy storms were prevalent. On January 12th a mass of wreckage was discovered by a man named Nukovitch, who conveyed the news to Estevan, from which point it was sent by wireless dispatches to Victoria.

Since that time the Hartfield has not been heard from, and Lloyd's have long since posted her as missing.

GAVIOTA BOUND NORTH.

Messrs. Christie and Elworthy Left in Local Launch for Prince Rupert and Queen Charlotte.

Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday the well-known launch Gaviota, propelled by a coal-oil engine, left James Bay with Messrs. Christie and Fred Elworthy, both of the local C. P. R. telegraph office, on board, bound for a cruise to Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

It is understood that Mr. Christie will spend the summer cruising in the vicinity of Graham and Moresby Islands, where he will probably make several prospecting trips.

SHIPPING DEPRESSION

MUCH FELT IN JAPAN

Nippon Yusen Kaisha Had Four Steamships Idle Last Year.

Advices brought by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Tango Maru state that the annual meeting of the N. Y. K. was held at the Tokio chamber of commerce building on the 27th May, when a dividend of 12 per cent. per annum was declared. The Tango left Yokohama on the day of the meeting and the details of the proceedings brought by her are meagre, but a brief resume of the company's business for the past year shows that four of the steamships in the N. Y. K. fleet were forced to remain idle owing to the shipping depression.

In this connection a Tokio message, dealing with the report, says that "in view of the post bellum inactivity of the mercantile marine and of the depression of domestic and foreign economic circles the company made every effort to increase the income and curtail expenditure, but four steamers were left idle, this fact being unprecedented in the company's annals. Japan's mercantile marine is thus likely to remain inactive for some time to come."

The report urges the company to direct its efforts once more to the development of the principal steamship lines under its flag.

The time used in Pacific Standard, for the 10th Meridian west, 11 h. counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

NEW WHARF.

Fine Berths Provided for Chargeurs-Reunis Steamships at Vancouver.

Visitors to the waterfront in Vancouver, coming upon the striking change which has taken place at the foot of Carrall street where the offices and landing place of the North Vancouver Ferry Company were formerly stationed. Instead of the dilapidated old landing, a large wharf stretches out into the inlet and when it is completed, the mammoth steamers Ceylan and Animal Duppre, of the Chargeurs-Reunis line will berth there. The wharf, which has been erected by the Johnson Wharf Company, is a fine structure, 600 feet in length and 70 feet wide. It is practically finished, but the work of drawing the fender piles and adding a few finishing touches will occupy a week. A shed will be built about the full length of the wharf and when the entire structure is completed it will be a splendid addition to the waterfront of Vancouver.

HADDON HALL IN COLLISION

BRITISH BARQUE AT MONTE VIDEO DAMAGED

No Particulars of Accident Received—Vessel Bound to Victoria.

Bound for this port from Liverpool with a cargo of general merchandise the British barque Haddon Hall, Capt. Dakin, put into Monte Video on Tuesday badly damaged after a collision with a vessel, the name of which is not stated.

News was received by Robert Ward & Company confirming the report of the collision, but no particulars are given in the wire received by them.

The Haddon Hall is a barque 1,332 tons, and left Liverpool on April 2nd for this port and Vancouver. It is understood that she will be considerably delayed owing to the difficulty in effecting repairs at the South American port.

BRITISH SHIP WINS.

Clackmannanshire Reaches Queenstown After 16,000-Mile Voyage From Columbia.

New York, June 10.—News of the ending of a remarkable marine race of 16,000 miles from Portland, Ore., to Queenstown, which was won by the British ship Clackmannanshire, was received in this city yesterday. The vessel sailed from Portland on January 11th in company with the French barque Marthe Roux. Two days before that the British barque Gladys had sailed from Portland for Queenstown and as all three of the vessels were loaded with wheat much interest was felt in a prospective race around Cape Horn and across the Atlantic.

The race was begun off the mouth of the Columbia river, all three vessels getting over the bar on January 17th. According to information received here yesterday, the vessels were in company almost throughout the voyage and reached Queenstown in 137 days and 2nd. En route they passed several other vessels which had sailed from Pacific coast ports several days earlier.

Kerbyson was master of the victorious ship. The French vessel was commanded by Capt. Garnier and Capt. Perrian was master of the Gladys. All three captains are well known mariners.

WHAT THE TRAMP OF THE FUTURE WILL BE

Prominent Lloyds Official Forecasts Type of Coming Cargo Steamship.

The cargo steamer of the future, the tramp of the years to be, has been forecasted by the assistant of the chief ship surveyor of Lloyd's Register, S. J. P. Thearne. He says that, judging by present tendencies, the tramp steamer of ten years hence will not be any larger than at present. Her size will be principally limited to the depth of water which is generally found available for her at the ports she will have to visit. The ports having a moderate depth of water, say, 20 to 24 feet, will have more to do with fixing her dimensions than the few large ports which can accommodate vessels of the greatest size and draught. The tramp must be sure of being able to get into as many ports as possible without unduly limiting her size. The larger vessel always works with greater proportionate economy than the smaller one. Our tramp must just strike the happy mean of being able to go to many places for and with cargo and to work with good average economy. She will therefore range between 320 and 400 feet in length, and it does not appear probable that for the world's general carrying trade these limits will in the near future be much exceeded. If the cargo steamer of the less proximate future much exceeds the latter dimension, it will only be in the consequence of dock and harbor boards having generally increased the depth of water in the ports they control.

The type is the next feature to be considered. The signs of the times indicate that for ordinary cargo-carrying purposes the poop, bridge and forecastle type is likely to endure for many years to come; and so strong is the spar deck steamer of to-day when compared with the three-deck steamer of twenty years ago that, in case where the existence of a second deck or tier of beams is not felt to be objectionable, the spar-deck steamer will continue to be built. But while this is so, it yet appears to be probable that the great majority of cargo steamer owners will prefer the roomy hold with unbroken stowage afforded by the one-deck vessel. Hence the one-deck type of a length ranging from 320 feet to 400 feet, having a poop, bridge, house and forecastle, seems likely to be the prevalent cargo steamer of the near future. This vessel will be built with deep framing and probably with wider spaced pillars of extra strength supporting strong girders placed under the deck beams and attached intercostally to the deck plating.

MARINE NOTES

In his monthly review of the charter market, Frank Waterhouse, president of the Waterhouse company, says: There has been a little more demand for tonnage for lumber during the past month, but rates continue very depressed, and in all other channels business is at an absolute standstill. For new crop wheat, loading, union terms are being paid, though this market shows little activity. As yet no steamships have been fixed for this business. From China there is practically no demand for either flour or lumber. The grain crop in the Northwest promises to be exceedingly plentiful, and the amount of tonnage available for grain loading is lighter than usual.

Capt. G. Jarvis, of the British steamship Oriana, reports to the branch hydrographic office, San Francisco that April 5, 1908, in north latitude 26 degrees 20 minutes; west longitude 141 degrees 11 minutes, he passed a submerged schooner about 60 feet long, with topsides washed away and ribs projecting three to four feet above the water.

The American schooner William Bowden, has completed loading 900,000 feet of lumber at the Hastings mill, Vancouver, and will be towed to sea at the end of the week. Capt. Petersen, who has been in hospital during the schooner's stay at Vancouver, has now recovered and is in command.

A report from Nome, dated yesterday, states that there is heavy pack-ice drifting from the south and no open channels in sight. Dense fog is also prevalent, and the first of the Nome steamships will probably be held off from shore for several days.

The steamship Forer, which has been operated in the West Australian line from San Francisco, will be replaced by the Lord Sefton. The Forer will run from Seattle to the Orient.

H. M. S. Shearwater, bound to Esquimalt from her southern cruise, during which she made a search for the survivors of the Silberhorn, left San Francisco yesterday, according to a dispatch from that port.

RETURNS TO HIS HOME AFTER MANY YEARS

Arrival of Warwickshire Man Causes Great Sensation in English Village.

A great sensation has been caused in the village of Attleborough, Warwickshire, by the return, after an absence of forty-one and a half years, of three sons of John Cartwright.

More than half a century ago John Cartwright had a little coal business in Attleborough, but it did not pay, so he joined the Birmingham police force. Later he resigned, and for a time lived in the little cottage at Attleborough with his wife, three daughters, and a son. Then he went to London to try and join the force there, but was rejected on physical grounds. An inherited desire to roam became too strong to be resisted, and he commenced those wanderings which were to last for so long. Forty-three years ago a letter, enclosing some money for his wife and family, came from Lisbon and then all trace of him was lost.

On May 9th a hale and hearty old man of eighty years, weather-beaten and white, walked into the Attleborough post office. "Can you tell me," he asked, "if the name is anyone of the name of Cartwright still living in this village?"

"Oh, yes," replied the post official, "there is a Mr. Cartwright, the registrar of births, deaths and marriages." The old man lost his direction in the great changes which have taken place, and in the village square he stopped and two elderly females to ask the way to the registrar's house. He had not gone many yards before the younger of the two women exclaimed in great excitement to the other, "Why, mother, that's my long-lost father! Didn't you recognize your husband?"

It was his own wife of eighty years, and Mrs. Childs, his sixty-years-old daughter, whom he had accosted and had not recognized. They followed him just in time to see him come away from a smart double-fronted villa muttering, "It can't be my son who lives in a house like that."

"My father! my father! my long-lost father!" cried Mrs. Childs, as she took her aged father in her arms. "But don't you know mother?"

The aged couple, as in a dream, stood there in the village street speechless with emotion, as their thoughts ran back to the years that were past. "Thank God, you're alive," he at length said, as they returned to the grim cottage over whose threshold he had not passed for six and forty years.

"Who's living and who's dead?" at length asked the old man, and he wept over the memory of two daughters who had died years ago.

The news of Cartwright's return soon spread through the village, and nothing else has been talked of. The old cottage has been filled with relatives night after night listening to the story of his wanderings in many European countries, in North and South Africa, and in India.

A representative of Lloyd's News interviewed Mrs. Cartwright. "Yes, my husband has returned after all these years. I did not recognize him at first, but my daughter did, and many others in the village who knew him."

Brought Back Bag of Gold.

"I had a hard struggle to bring up my children, but they afterwards became a great help, and I never had a penny of parish relief. My husband brought a bag of gold with him, and he said, 'Now, lass, if ever you had a penny of parish money tell me, and on Monday I'll go and repay it. Here's the gold!'"

"My husband has gone to Yorkshire for a few days to sell some things there, so that we may spend the remainder of our days together here."

John Albert Cartwright, a successful estate agent and registrar of births, deaths, and marriages, joined Lloyd's representative at the paternal cottage.

"It is a most remarkable story," he said, "and my aged father, whom I had never seen before—I was only a baby when he left—has not yet had time to tell all his wonderful experiences. He was engaged in railway-making in Spain and Portugal, and also in India. He also took up big game shooting there, and afterwards in both North and South Africa. For years in Africa he accompanied many parties. He said, 'To come back and find your children old men and women with thirty descendants!'"

He was overjoyed to be in the old home again after so many years of wandering. He looks well and hearty, and quite a number of villagers who recognized him at once have been chatting over old times. He will be back again in a few days to settle for good.

Asked if he could account for his father's long wanderings, Mr. Cartwright replied, "No, only he seems to have inherited a roving disposition. One of his brothers did something similar. My father seems none the worse for his wonderful experience, and he thinks nothing of walking four or five miles without a stick."

"I am forty-eight years of age, and I never saw my father till his return. It was a strange feeling, so strange, indeed, that it is impossible for me to describe it."

"I can hardly explain what my feelings were when I was told that my father had returned. I said it couldn't possibly be true, and went home to bed. Early next morning, however, I found it was true. He looks the very picture of my uncle who died two years ago, and his writing to-day is exactly like the family Bible fifty years ago."

"He has made enough money to keep himself and my mother for the rest of their days. It seems like a dream."

BOUND TO FINDLAY RIVER.

(Special Correspondence).

Prince Rupert, June 8.—A. D. McPhee, a prominent mining man of the Boundary district and formerly superintendent of the McKinley mine, in Franklin camp, accompanied by Walter Ross, of Grand Forks, were passengers yesterday on the Venture.

They are bound for the Findlay river placer mines, and will also take in the Bulkley valley, where they will locate a large tract of land for themselves. They are going in by way of Bella Coola, and are taking three months' provisions with them.

A dock cut from solid rock has been built on Lake Victoria Nyanza at an altitude of 3,800 feet.

HOW TOURIST TRADE AFFECTS THE CITIES

Los Angeles Recognizes the Importance of This Business.

The effects of the tourist trade upon a city is referred to by the Los Angeles Times in a recent editorial. In speaking of the visitors to that city it says:

"This tourist inflow and outgo has a great influence on the business of this city. It is difficult to realize that from 50,000 to 80,000 non-residents are housed and fed in this city for periods varying from a month to almost a year, each season. There are never so many here at once, but the yearly flux-and-ebb is thus summed up. At the most, perhaps 30,000 strangers are here at a time. That is an addition equal to 10 per cent. of the permanent population. Ten per cent. added to the business of a grocer, a butcher or a clothier is very considerable. It is probable that just now there do not exceed 10,000 strangers in the city. Beginning in July there are likely to be twice that number.

"This traffic is one of our most permanent assets; our tourist friends are largely converted into permanent residents, sooner or later. They come to visit and are so charmed they never go away, or, if they do, they never forget their stay here, nor ever have a peace of mind again until they get their vine and fig tree, their bungalow and rose garden in the land where summer sun all the year around, one merging into the next one that comes. "As the suns warm up along the great desert wastes, where gold is dug from the earth, and silver and copper—as the schools close and vacation is on, many families will come out to the coast to cool their system and conserve their vital forces. The business will pick up with all, and our summer tourist season will be in the harvest stage of development."

AMONG THE ISLANDS.

Iroquois Will Make Trip on Sunday Stopping at Mayne.

With the advent of the warm weather a good many are taking advantage of the excursion rates given by the V. & S. R. and steamer Iroquois among the islands of the Gulf. On Wednesday a large number made the round trip and all returned well pleased.

Next Sunday the Iroquois will make the same trip stopping one and a half hours at Mayne, returning via the picturesque Pender Island canal. The scenery along this route is grand and a most delightful day can be spent in this way during the warm weather.

MYSTERIOUS WALKER.

Titled Ladies Propose Marriage to Masked Traveller.

The masked man who is walking around the world with a perambulator for a wagon of $100,000 reached Victoria a few days ago, and in the course of a long interview with a representative of Lloyd's News, said he started on the first day of this year and had travelled 1,000 miles in the southern countries.

He calculated that his journey would take eight years, but there is no time limit. He is not allowed to receive as much as a glass of water or a cigarette from anyone unless he pays for the same.

One of the conditions of the wager was that the walker was to find a wife on his travels. This he has already done, the photograph of his charming bride being shown to our representative. He had thirty-one different proposals, three of which were from titled English ladies.

The perambulator weighs 101 pounds and the mask worn by the walker weighs 4 pounds 5 ounces. His average mileage for the whole journey he expects to be 10 miles a day. He wears sandals, which, he says, keep the feet beautifully cool, and after his 25 mile walk from Wantage he was as fresh as when he started.

His diet is simple and consists of plenty of good, wholesome food of the ordinary kind. The weather is immaterial to the man, and he continued his journey as usual all through the recent heavy snowstorms. The only two persons he sees unmasked are his wife and the colleague who accompanies him. He and his wife are both English.

The only trouble the traveller anticipates is in China, where he thinks the natives will either want to worship him with his mask or "do the other thing."

COPPER STRIKES NEAR JEDWAY.

(Special Correspondence). Prince Rupert, June 8.—Word has today reached here from Jedway, Queen Charlotte Islands, that Frank Fritz, a pioneer mining man of the Boundary district, has made some very valuable locations of high grade copper properties near Jedway, which are creating quite a sensation in that district. Mr. Fritz was sent out some weeks ago by a syndicate of business men at Grand Forks, who may now become wealthy as a result of his efforts.

TRAVELERS MAY FORM ORGANIZATION HERE

Vancouver Man is Here Trying to Establish Local Council in This City.

A. R. Kelly, of Vancouver, is in Victoria at present trying to interest local commercial travellers in the organization in this city of a branch of the United Commercial Travelers of America. The establishment of a local council in Victoria was taken up at the recent convention in Vancouver, when Mr. Kelly was able to present the signatures of 50 travellers living in this city, who were willing to join. Mr. Kelly by special permission, presented these names to the convention and authority was given for the organization of the branch.

Mr. Kelly is now here to take the matter up with the commercial travellers living in this city. Discussing the matter he said that he felt that every traveller in the city would only be too glad to affiliate himself with the international body. Once this had been done Victoria would be in a position to invite the coast council, which comprises British Columbia, Oregon and Washington, to hold its annual convention here in 1910, Seattle having secured this honor for next year. He did not think there would be any trouble in securing this convention for Victoria the year following.

One thing that the coast council was now dealing with particularly was the sanitary conditions of the hotels at which its members were forced to stop. After every member of United Commercial Travelers would be expected to report to his council the condition of any hostelry which did not come up to the mark. With the view of improving conditions the travellers will ask the legislatures of their respective states or province to pass more stringent laws regarding the sanitary conditions of hotels, including the cleanliness of the hotel throughout and of the bed clothes and bedrooms in particular and ask for regular inspection.

The coast council will issue a pocket guide giving train, boat and stage schedules, as well as other information of use not only to commercial travellers but also to the general public. This guide will be revised from time to time and always kept up to date in every respect.

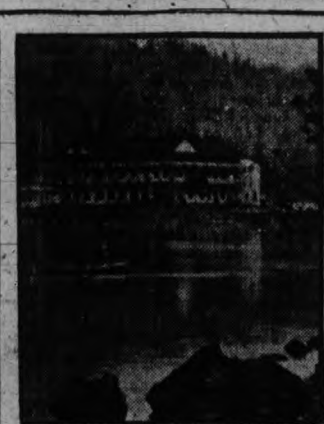

A GOOD LAUGH.

Dockstader's Minstrels Gave Lots of Amusement.

Last evening Lew Dockstader and his company entertained a good audience at the Victoria theatre. As usual Dockstader was highly amusing and had a good supporting company. O'Neill proved an excellent fun provoker.

The singing was good, and the whole programme productive of amusement. Dockstader's impersonation of President Roosevelt was heartily enjoyed, together with his heart to heart talk with the audience at being back from the "States."

NO UNEMPLOYMENT NOW

AT PRINCE RUPERT

Progress in Every Branch of Construction Work is Pushed Rapidly Ahead.

fine weather during the week has greatly facilitated progress in every branch of construction work on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Prince Rupert eastward, and while the contracts have not all been signed, it may be stated that

Foley, Welch & Stewart have sublet

all of their 100-mile contract, with the exception of about fifteen miles north of Graveyard Point. The Prince Rupert

Construction Company have taken a contract of four miles of road on the west side of Kaizen Island; Dan Stewart

has two miles above Telegraph Point; and

Fred Peterson has three miles north of Graveyard Point. In addition to grading contracts, McDonald & Perry have been given six miles of right-of-way clearing commencing at a station eight miles east; and

Dudley Bros. four miles from Aberdeen. A

Ross also has a clearing contract above

Aberdeen.

The steamer Caledonia made two trips during the week between Prince

Rupert and Telegraph Point with supplies and construction material for the different camps along the route. She carried 80 men each trip who had been hired here to work for the sub-contractors on their sections.

Conditions have materially changed

in labor circles during the past ten days, and there are now practically no idle men in town. Men who know how to do station work should come to

Prince Rupert where there is 100 miles of railway grading, most of which can be done by station men to good advantage, as it is considered fairly heavy rock work. Six new camps have been established during the week.

J. B. L. McDonald, superintendent of construction, says the contractors who have made a beginning are getting along as well as could be expected.

Three slips have been made in the wharf in Foley, Welch & Stewart's big warehouse, so that boats can now be loaded quickly at any stage of the tide, and the warehouse is well supplied with supplies. So it may be summed up, that in two months from date of arrival at Prince Rupert of the first

grading outfit, the whole of the first hundred miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway east from Prince Rupert is sub-let or ported out; the largest contractors supply house on the Pacific coast has been built; powder magazines erected; transportation facilities provided; and hundreds of men given employment at fair wages.

ODDFELLOWS IN CONVENTION.

Grand Lodge of Independent Order in

B. C. Meet at New Westminster.

New Westminster, June 10.—The grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of British Columbia

met in annual convention in the I. O.

O. F. hall here to-day and will continue in session to-morrow. The grand assembly of U. Beulan Rebekahs is also meeting to-day.

The grand encampment of the Odd

Fellows held its annual session yesterday, when many matters of interest to the lodge members were dealt with.

The following officers were elected and installed during the afternoon: G. P.

W. H. Walsh, Vancouver; G. H. P. T.

F. Neelands, Vancouver; G. E. W. G.

Cavalski, Nanaimo; G. S. Fred Davey,

Victoria; G. T. E. L. Webber, New

Westminster; G. M. F. J. Squires,

Nelson; G. R. to S. G. L. J. A. Mc-

Kay, Vancouver; M. A. Cleland, Vancouver; I. S. S. May, New Westminster; A. S. A. Donaldson, Trill.

SIXTH REGIMENT BAND.

Vancouver, June 10.—As a result of a conference between leading merchants

of the city, representatives of the regiment band and officers of the Sixth

Regiment, held in the drill hall last night, it was decided to inaugurate a campaign for the securing of funds to place the regimental band on a better footing. The matter will be taken up by representatives of the conference and be placed before the public in detailed form in the near future.

VANCOUVER'S SKYSCRAPER.

Vancouver, June 10.—Wm. S. Eames,

a St. Louis architect; James Black,

president of the James Black Masonry

and Contracting Co., and Isaac T. Cook,

also of St. Louis, were in the city yesterday and have in view the erection of a 15-story office structure in this city.

They will return in August, when, Mr.

Eames says, their plans will have been formulated.

10 PURSUE STUDY
OF FISH LIFE

BIOLOGICAL STATION

AT DEPARTURE BAY

Rev. G. W. Taylor Gives Interesting Description of Programme in View.

Nanaimo, June 10.—The Rev. G. W.

Taylor, curator of the new biological station at Departure Bay, Nanaimo, gave your correspondent an interesting interview to-day regarding the station

and scheme of operation for the present year.

He stated that the contemplated form of opening, which had been planned for last month, had been abandoned on account of the absence from the province of His Honor the lieutenant-governor and the impracticability of securing the attendance of the Dominion members of Prof. Prince or of Professor Ramsay

Wright (the directors and assistant director respectively of the biological stations) at this time.

However, it is intended to arrange a special meeting here next year when the British Association is to meet at Winnipeg and when a special excursion

is being arranged which will bring

many of the foremost naturalists of the world to the coast.

The building which has been erected and fitted up at the bay is, in the opinion of the designers and of the others who have seen it, as well suited

for the purpose as any similar institution in the world.

It consists of, first, a large office for the reception of visitors and the transaction of necessary business. Adjoining the office is a room for the storage

of glassware and chemicals and for the reception of specimens when first brought in. Near by is the main laboratory, a room 32 feet long by 16 feet wide. It is lighted by eight windows, four facing north and four south. Work tables are arranged along each side of the room. The whole of the wall space is provided with shelving on which books and specimens are arranged. Salt and fresh water are laid in convenient ly for each worker, so that investigation of the living organism can be carried on.

Next to the laboratory on the east side

are the library and photographic room.

Leading out of the library is the dining room through which one passes into the outer hallway and to the private entrance to the station. Upstairs are four bedrooms which will be for the accommodation of the visiting scientists. A separate building contains the

Recipe for Mayonnaise Dressing

Two yolks of eggs well beaten, half teaspoonful mustard, one and a half teaspoonful vinegar, half teaspoonful salt, small half-cupful salad oil, pinch of red pepper. Have materials as cold as possible. Beat the egg and mustard one minute, then add the salt and vinegar, beating continually. When like a jelly add a little lemon juice, and begin with a few drops of vinegar at a time, beating all the while. If there is a tendency to curdle add a little oil for a few minutes. When the vinegar is used up add the salt and pepper, beat five minutes more. Keep cold as possible until served.

CONTRACT WITH

MEXI AN LINE

TERMS UPON WHICH

RENEWAL WAS MADE

Government at Ottawa Exercises Control Over the Management.

The terms of the contract under which the Canadian Mexican Pacific steamship line is operated are as follows:

1. The contractor, controlling two or more steamships sailing under the British flag, each of a carrying capacity of not less than 3,500 tons, with a guaranteed rating at Lloyd's of A1, and having passenger accommodation for not less than twenty first class and 100 'tween deck passengers, will within six months from the date hereof place the same or other steamships of like or greater capacity, approved by the minister, on a route between Vancouver and Victoria in the province of British Columbia, and the ports of Mazatlan, Manzanillo, Acapulco and Salina Cruz, situated on the Pacific coast of the Republic of Mexico; and will therewith maintain for a period of two years from the sailing of such steamers from the terminal ports of Vancouver and Salina Cruz a regular monthly service between such terminal ports and calling on all voyages both south and north bound at the afore-mentioned intermediate ports, and at such other ports in the province of British Columbia and the Republic of Mexico as may be approved by the minister, sailing from each such terminal port regularly once in each calendar month and on such days as may be sanctioned by the minister; such dates to be advertised at least twenty days in advance of sailings; and shall complete each year during the continuance of this contract twelve full round voyages.

2. Each of the steamers employed as herein agreed shall on all south and north bound voyages run at an average speed of not less than ten knots per hour, extraordinary conditions of the weather excepted.

3. The contractor shall carry on each trip of any steamer employed under this contract according to its capacity, all the freight and passengers which may be reasonably offered or obtained, and at tariff rates both as to passengers and freights which may be from time to time approved by the minister.

4. It is understood and agreed to be a further condition of these presents that the contractor shall, prior to the first sailing under this contract, furnish to the minister time-tables showing the proposed sailings, and upon the same being approved by the minister, they shall be duly advertised; and it is also agreed that in case either of the steamers herein named, or a substitute steamer sanctioned by the minister, does not sail for a terminal port as herein specified within three days of the date fixed by such time-tables, there shall be deducted from the amount of subsidy payable for such voyage, a sum equal to one-tenth of the amount otherwise payable for the performance of such voyage, and so in proportion for further delays or failure to sail from such terminal port; provided, however, that the minister may authorize any vessel to sail at an earlier or later date than that specified in such time-table should be for any reason deem it advisable to do so.

5. The contractor shall, prior to the first sailing under this contract, furnish to the minister a schedule of the freight rates proposed to be charged between the different ports on both north and south-bound trips, which schedule shall be subject to the approval of the minister, and after being approved by him shall not be changed except with his consent; and the minister may at any time, if he deem it advisable, fix the maximum rates to be charged on any article or class of goods; and the contractor shall carry between the ports hereinbefore named, on all voyages of the said steamships employed under the terms of this contract, all passengers or freight that may be offered or that can reasonably be procured, at rates which shall not be in excess of such maximum rates as fixed by the minister; should he deem it advisable to so fix such minimum rates, and in no case shall any discrimination be made as regards rates or otherwise, directly or indirectly, against Canadian merchants or shippers; and it is agreed and understood that the freight rates on south-bound trips on through bills of lading from any Canadian points west of Lake Superior shall in no case be greater than from the same place via any United States route or port; and on north-bound trips the rates to any Canadian points west of Lake Superior shall be as favorable as via any United States route or port to the same place.

7. Subject to the further conditions, stipulations and reservations herein provided, His Majesty for himself, his heirs and successors, covenants with the contractor, his successors and assigns, that the contractor and his successors well and faithfully perform all and every the covenants and stipulations herein on the part of the contractor set forth and contained, he will well and truly pay or cause to be paid to the contractor, his successors or assigns a subsidy at the rate of $50,000 per annum, payable in quarterly instalments of $12,500 or such portions thereof as may be earned in each quarter ending on the last days of June, September, December and March occurring during the continuance of this contract; it being understood that the government of the Republic of Mexico has entered into a concurrent agreement with the contractor for the performance of the service as herein specified, and the payment of subsidy as aforesaid is subject to the continuance of the agreement with and on the part of the government of Mexico as to time, terms and conditions under which the service is to be maintained;

Provided, however, that in the event of failure on the part of the contractor to perform the service herein contracted to be performed, or any portion thereof, a proportionate deduction shall be made from the subsidy in respect of the service not performed; and provided further that if any expense shall be incurred by His Majesty for the conveyance of mails between the points herein mentioned, as terminal ports or ports en route, by reason of neglect on the part of the contractor to perform the said service, or any portion thereof, then all such expense so incurred shall be deducted from the subsidy herein agreed to be paid, and provided further, and it is the true intent and meaning of these presents, that none of the instalments of subsidy herein agreed to be paid shall become payable until the contractor shall have furnished to the minister properly certified and authentic vouchers and documents, showing to the satisfaction of the minister that up to the time of such instalment the said service herein agreed to be performed has been fully, completed and faithfully executed and performed according to the true intent and meaning of these presents; and provided also that no amount of instalment of subsidy shall be payable at any time unless it appears to the satisfaction of the minister that up to the time of such payment there has been no breach on the part of the contractor of any of the covenants, provisions or stipulations of this contract, and that the decision of the minister in that regard shall be absolute, binding, final and conclusive upon the contractor, his successors and assigns.

8. It is understood and agreed that in the event of any of the said steamers being at any time so disabled as to be obliged to be docked for repairs, the failure to perform the terms of this contract owing to such accident and for the time reasonably occupied in the repair of the damaged steamer, shall not be taken as a default or breach of the stipulations of this contract, or subject the contractor to deductions as above from the amount of subsidy, if any, payable for any voyage delayed in consequence of such docking for repairs; but there shall be no claim for nor payment of any subsidy in respect of any voyage not actually performed.

9. It is understood that if any of the said steamers shall be by peril of the sea or other unavoidable casualty, lost, destroyed or temporarily disabled from performing the voyages herein agreed to be performed according to the true intent and meaning of these presents, the contractors may in such case as soon as reasonably may be, having regard to the circumstances, replace the said steamer by another of equal class, speed, equipment, character and capacity to the satisfaction and approval of the minister; in case the said steamer has been only temporarily disabled, and continue the service herein contracted for with such substituted or repaired steamer with as little delay as possible under all circumstances. If occasionally in consequence of prevailing bad weather (of which evidence shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the minister) at intermediate open roadstead ports, the steamers are obliged to omit calls, such omissions shall not be construed as a breach of this contract.

11. The contractor shall during the performance of this contract, convey on each and every trip of the steamers performing the aforementioned services, both on outward and homeward voyages, all such mails as shall be tendered to the proper officers or persons in that behalf on the said steamers by or on behalf of or under the direction of the postal authorities of Canada, or of the terminal port or ports of call herein referred to, and shall deliver all such mails at their proper destinations at the terminal ports or ports of call above referred to; and the expenses of carrying such mails from the post offices or railway stations to the steamers and from the steamers to the post offices or railway stations at the terminal ports and at the ports of call shall be borne by the contractors, who will be subject to all general and special regulations now or hereafter existing during the continuance of this contract in connection with the postal service. For the conveyance of all such mails no payment shall be made or required over or beyond the amount of subsidy herein mentioned or provided for.

16. The steamers employed in carrying out the provisions of this contract shall not on any voyages either outward or homeward call at any foreign port not specified in this contract, Mexican ports excepted.

The steamers employed in this service during the calendar year 1907, were as follows:

S.S. Georgia (formerly the Sikh) was built at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1889, of steel and registered at London in 1906; length, 335 feet; breadth, 40 feet 2 inches; depth, 27 feet 2 inches; net tonnage, 1,778; gross tonnage, 2,766; capacity, 3,800; nominal horse-power, 402; speed, 11 knots.

S.S. Lonsdale was built at Sunderland in 1890 of steel and registered at the same place in 1903; length, 340 feet; breadth, 41 feet; depth, 26 feet 3 inches; net tonnage, 2,048; gross tonnage, 3,171; capacity 4,200; 292 nominal horse-power; speed, 10½ knots.

The distance from Vancouver to Salina Cruz is 2,965 miles; from Salina Cruz to Vancouver via Guaymas, 3,572 miles.

The traffic during the calendar year 1907 is stated by the contractor to be as follows:

Number of trips run southbound, 7; northbound, 6.

Total number of miles run, 42,187.

Number of passengers carried southbound, 38; northbound, 19; total, 57.

Tons of freight carried outwards, 6,374; inwards, 786; total, 7,160.

The amount of subsidy paid for services rendered during the same period was $35,000.

TANGO MARU REACHED
PORT LAST EVENING

Radio-Telegraph on Japanese
Liner Not Yet an Unqualified Success.

Without a single Chinese passenger or an ounce of Chinese freight in her small cargo the Nippon Yusen liner Tango Maru, Capt. Swain, reached port last evening. The effects of the boycott which was precipitated through the Tatsu Maru affair seem to be growing more pronounced, as the Shinano Maru left Seattle this week without Chinese passengers or freight and the Tango, coming in, is in the same state.

Altogether the Tango had 50 saloon passengers, many of them missionaries returning from the Orient to eastern cities. K. Sato, who, it is stated, will be attached to the Japanese consulate in this province, was the only saloon passenger landing here. J. M. Wright, T. T. Wright and C. B. Chabot, second-class passengers, landed here and 43 steerage Japanese. For Seattle the liner had 160 Japanese.

The cargo totalled 1,724 tons, including 1,010 packages of silk goods. The local freight amounted to 140 tons measurement.

On the Tango there is the first radio-telegraph room installed on any trans-Pacific liner. The system used is the Telefunken, a German invention which has not yet proved entirely satisfactory in its original state. It is said that the Japanese have applied to it several "improvements" which, however, have certainly not added to its efficiency. The range of the Tango's radio-telegraph is approximately 120 miles, a very small compass for a marine installation. The operator on the Tango stated yesterday that his apparatus had not been quite up to the mark on the trip across the Pacific but that he expected its range would be increased and its efficiency heightened by the next voyage. Coming to port the Tango was heard by the Dominion government's radio-telegraph stations at Pachuca, Estevan and Victoria when about 200 miles off the coast. Pachuca received the clearest messages from the vessel but the Tango's operator was unable to hear Tatosho station, where there is an eight-kilowatt apparatus, when within 100 miles of it. It is expected that the Tango, while in port on the Sound, will have her instruments adjusted by repeated experiments with the local stations which are infinitely superior to those at present in service on the Japanese coast.

S.S. Georgia (formerly the Sikh) was built at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1889, of steel and registered at London in 1906; length, 335 feet; breadth, 40 feet 2 inches; depth, 27 feet 2 inches; net tonnage, 1,778; gross tonnage, 2,766; capacity, 3,800; nominal horse-power, 402; speed, 11 knots.

S.S. Lonsdale was built at Sunderland in 1890 of steel and registered at the same place in 1903; length, 340 feet; breadth, 41 feet; depth, 26 feet 3 inches; net tonnage, 2,048; gross tonnage, 3,171; capacity 4,200; 292 nominal horse-power; speed, 10½ knots.

The distance from Vancouver to Salina Cruz is 2,965 miles; from Salina Cruz to Vancouver via Guaymas, 3,572 miles.

The traffic during the calendar year 1907 is stated by the contractor to be as follows:

Number of trips run southbound, 7; northbound, 6.

Total number of miles run, 42,187.

Number of passengers carried southbound, 38; northbound, 19; total, 57.

Tons of freight carried outwards, 6,374; inwards, 786; total, 7,160.

The amount of subsidy paid for services rendered during the same period was $35,000.

WALKEM APPEAL IS NOW BEFORE COURT

J. Martin is Pressing for a New Trial in Celebrated Case.

The appeal in the case of Rex vs. Walkem was opened a few minutes before the court adjourned for lunch this afternoon before Justices Irving, Morrison and Clement sitting in the full court.

Joseph Martin, K. C., on behalf of the appellant, asked for a new trial on the ground that the alleged crime was committed in the United States, while the counselling only, it was alleged, was done in Canada; and further that in a case of this kind corroborative evidence was required, the girl, Blanche Bond, being an accomplice in the crime. It is a rule of practice in Canada to require corroborative evidence in a case of this kind, although not a rule of law.

This case was one of counselling an abortion of which George A. Walkem, of Vancouver, was convicted by Judge Cairne, but sentence was reserved pending an appeal.

BIG ELEVATOR FIRE.

Chicago, Ill., June 11.—In a spectacular fire which destroyed the great grain elevator of the Tri-state Grain Company at Hammond, Ind., last night, 250,000 bushels of corn were destroyed and property valued at $200,000, including the corn was burned.

RAILWAY RECEIPTS.

Montreal, June 11.—C. P. R. earnings for the first week of June decreased by $332,000, and the Grand Trunk by $200,999.

STREET CAR DYNAMITED.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—Four passengers and the motorman and conductor were injured shortly after midnight this morning when a Cedar avenue car bound east for Euclid Heights was wrecked on Murray Hill by what is supposed to have been a charge of dynamite.

Judgment was reserved yesterday in the case of Gordon vs. Horne, a Vancouver real estate dispute. The appeal is one from Mr. Justice Morrison, who gave for the defendant.
